

Fire Destroys Farmer's Barn

In less than two hours, only rubble remained

By two p.m. on Thursday a fire, which had broken out at noon, had completely destroyed a barn on the 200-acre farm of Robert W. Philp. The barn, located just south of Stirling, housed 45 head of cattle which were out to pasture at the time of the fire.

Fire departments from Stirling and Sidney were able to save three buildings located adjacent to the burning building.

Cattle Auction Friday

A fire, which completely destroyed a barn just south of the village, last Thursday afternoon, has forced a Stirling area farmer to sell his 45 head of cattle.

Robert W. Philp, RR 4, Stirling, not only lost a shelter for his dairy herd, but also lost his entire supply of winter feed.

An electrician, who had been working at the Philp residence, noticed smoke coming from the building about 10 minutes after 12 noon.

"I don't know how the fire started," said Mr. Philp, who had left the barn just a half hour earlier.

Flames were shooting from the roof and the entire building, located on the 200-acre farm on Highway 33 south of Stirling, was enveloped in smoke when firemen arrived.

Heat from the fire was intense and the firefighters were hard pressed to save three buildings located less than 100 feet from the burning barn.

One of the buildings contained a large drum of gasoline which posed a threat of an explosion for a time.

The fire reached its peak about 1:00 p.m. and spectacular crashes occurred as large sections of the building caved into the foundation.

Mr. Philp had high praise for the Stirling and Sidney Fire Departments, who responded to the alarm.

"If it hadn't been for their prompt action, we would have lost the other three sheds," he said.

Lost in the fire were over 6,000 bales of hay, 3,000 bushels of grain, 3,000 bales of straw, a wagon, a manure spreader, along with milking equipment, and several power tools that Mr. Philp used for carpentry work around the farm.

The only livestock lost in the blaze were a sow and her litter of seven.

Mr. Philp said that his dairy herd would have been lost if the fire had occurred at night. The barn had been completely rewired and rebuilt during the last five years.

Many area farmers have taken a few head of cattle from the Philp herd and are housing them until an auction sale can be held this Friday.

Mr. Philp, who has farmed at this location for the last 23 years, does not know whether he will rebuild in the spring.

"I had the building insured but it isn't enough to cover my total loss," he said.

Will loan plan

Village Council agreed Monday night to loan a copy of Stirling's newly devised official plan to the village of Bancroft. Bancroft is about to embark on the establishment of an official plan for that northern community.

Expropriation next step?

Clarence Copeland has flatly refused to accept an offer of $600 from Stirling village council as compensation for the loss of land required in the widening of the Belleville Road.

In a letter read at Friday night's meeting of council, Mr. Copeland reiterated that he would not consider any offer less than $1,200. Further delays in settling will result in an even higher price tag, he added.

"Well, you can expropriate," Reeve Donald Rodgers told members of council. However, it was agreed to defer action on the matter.

result of a re-assessment.

An application under this section must be given in writing to the municipal clerk who is directed in the legislation to "immediately transmit" this notice of application to the regional registrar of the Court.

The Assessment Review Court can only reduce taxes under this new legislation if the municipal council has approved the application for a reduction and has set out a maximum amount of taxes which may be cancelled, reduced or refunded, in a municipal by-law. The relevant subsections read as follows:

76 (1) An application to the Assessment Review Court for the cancellation, reduction or refund of taxes which have become unduly burdensome as a result of a re-assessment.

(g) whose taxes are unduly burdensome by reason of an increase resulting from a different assessment generally of lands within the municipality made in the year 1968 or thereafter.

76 (2a) Taxes levied by a municipality shall not be cancelled, reduced or refunded on an application under clause (g) of subsection (1) unless the application and a maximum amount of taxes that may be cancelled, reduced or refunded has been authorized by a by-law which may be passed by the council of the municipality.

Now, how any elected body of any Municipality can refuse to follow instructions is certainly questionable. When such representatives are duly elected they take an oath stating (quote) "I do solemnly swear that I will faithfully and impartially perform all the duties pertaining to the Office to which I have been elected, to the best of my ability and until a successor is elected and installed in my stead" (unquote).

I would hesitatingly suggest that a resignation should be in order of the entire elected representatives as they all acquiesced to a "no Action Plan."

What flagrant hypocrisy is allowed to be exercised is more than I can understand and if conscience has any bearing whatsoever a resignation could

Amendments were quoted as having been enacted by the Department of Municipal Affairs and the Ontario Government and approved by the Minister of Municipal Affairs.

The Sections quoted in the following paragraphs are copied from a letter from the Hon. W. Darcy McKeough, Minister of the Department of Municipal Affairs. (Quote) "At the same time as the amendment to the Municipal Act was passed, a number of amendments to the Assessment Act were also approved. One of these allows individuals to make application to the Assessment Review Court for a cancellation, reduction or refund of taxes which have become unduly burdensome as a result of a re-assessment."

'Council should resign in body'

Dear Sir:

In your paper of Wednesday, October 21, 1970, there was a comment about a Businessman of Stirling, contesting Property Assessment.

I would like to pass a few comments "WITHOUT PREJUDICE" regarding same.

This property assessment has been explored from many angles seemingly without success and is still continuing to be done. I am amazed at an elected body of representatives of the Village of Stirling flatly refusing to act on a request for consideration where sections of Acts of

Do's And Don'ts For Power Tools

Making sure that all his gasoline power equipment starts next year. A new development, called Sta-Bil, keeps gum deposits from clogging engine fuel lines.

Power tools are great conveniences and labor savers, but they do require periodic inspection and care. A bit of preventive maintenance on your lawn mower and other gasoline powered equipment, for example, will go a long way toward making sure the equipment is ready for use when you need it.

One problem with gasoline powered tools has always been the gum deposits which form in fuel lines when engines are not in use. Such formations can prevent engines from starting and lead to expensive carburetor and engine overhauls.

Scientists at Knox Laboratories in Chicago, a research company, studied the problem. They came up with a solution, called Sta-Bil, which prevents gum deposits from forming. The new chemical development when added to fuel, also eliminates the need to drain gasoline before storing power equipment at the end of the season.

Here are some other tips for keeping tools in shape: equipment should always be kept clean and stored in a dry place to prevent rust damage. Be sure to oil tools and motors, if recommended by manufacturer.

Tools well cared for will last a long time, be safe and a pleasure to use.

Dear Mr. Martin:
What is a trust company and how does it operate?

Mr. G. P. W.

Dear Mr. G. P. W.:
A trust company can either be a department of a bank or a separate company established to manage trust funds. This amounts to a variety of activities as a trustee generally has a great deal of discretion. The trustee can manage security holdings, buy and sell stocks as market trends dictate, oversee real estate holdings and so on; but primarily a trustee, whether a company or an individual, sees that the trust's objectives are met.

Trust funds are usually set up to achieve some special objective such as providing for the care of a dependent, assuring sound financial management for those who are unable to manage for themselves, minimizing taxes, etc. Put simply, a trust is a person or company giving property to someone to be managed in the interests of a prescribed person or cause.

Trusts are often thought of as legal devices, used only by the wealthy to save on taxes or support large charities, but they can be used effectively by persons of more modest means as well.

If you're interested in establishing a trust fund yourself, the best advice is to check with some experts in the field to see if such an operation could be of benefit to you and your family. Try checking with one of the many trust companies, or see the trust department of your bank. Check their fees while you're talking to them. With a smaller fund, the fees can take a chunk of the expected trust income, but it may well be worth the money to guarantee that a dependent will be cared for or your widow will be protected during and after your death.

Village rapped for polluting air

Provincial authorities have clamped down on the village on account of violations of the Air Pollution Control Act which have been occurring at the municipal dump.

At a meeting Friday night, members of the village council were notified by letter that an inspection carried out on Oct. 6 revealed a fire burning at the dump which produced smoke of a duration and density prohibited by the Act.

Provincial authorities asked council to investigate the matter and advise the province what action was being taken to prevent a recurrence.

At the suggestion of Councillor Maurice Faulkner, it was decided the village would erect a sign at the entrance to the dump, forbidding the public to burn garbage.

Reeve Donald Rodgers pointed out that village workmen already have been advised there must be no burning at the dump.

Local arena said sound

Stirling's ice arena is structurally sound, in the opinion of the village council.

This was the consensus Friday night when council discussed a letter from the Department of Labour's safety branch warning Ontario municipalities to make sure their arenas were structurally able to bear the weight of winter snow.

The warning was prompted by the collapse of two arenas under the weight of snow in previous years.

Councillor Robert Anderson noted that the local arena was put in first class shape three or four years ago at the time artificial ice equipment was installed. Furthermore, he said, because of the shape of the building, there is never any snow load on the roof.

Card party

Stirling Lodge No. 239 sponsored a card party in the IOOF hall Friday evening, October 30.

The prize winners were ladies high, Mrs. Percy MacMullen; Consolation, Mrs. Everett Maybee; Men's high, Tommy Grills; Consolation, Don Walker; Special prize, Mrs. Hubbard Faulkner. At the close the committee served refreshments.

Integrated studies at Frankford school

By: W. G. DONNELL
PRINCIPAL, FRANKFORD
PUBLIC SCHOOL

What do you think about when you sit on a hill-top? Do you see money spent on construction, cement, pavement and buildings? Do you see or hear children at play in the playgrounds below? Do you see the beauty of cloud shadows playing tag across the wooded hillside? It depends on your attitude, your interests, your experience.

This fall when a group of children sat on a hill-top their teacher had a nice plan in mind - to introduce "Transportation", for there below them, lay the railroad, streets, highway, river and canal with airplanes overhead.

However, the imagination of boys and girls ran to the Indians who years ago drifted down the river in canoes, portaging at the rapids, where now are locks in the Trent canal; Indians on the Iroquois Trail across the river where we could see Highway 33; Indians stalking game in the forest where the shadows of the clouds drifted by. The Stirling water tower in the distance suggested messages sent by smoke signals from the hill-top long ago.

Like hounds on a scent they were off on the theme - "Indians". Their involvement in this theme made various subject areas become integrated. Subjects in this procedure become so interwoven that they are understood without realizing the learning experience.

Do they need a health textbook to discover why the Indians were healthy, why they could drink river water safely, why they didn't have mumps, measles and chicken pox? Is it necessary to read a geography text of land forms when they talk about the island in the river right before their eyes, the river in the valley between the hills, the horizon where the hills and sky seem to meet?

Is history real? Can they remember what the natives had to offer their white friends when they see real buckskin used for a model teepee, while they eat pumpkin cooked in the classroom and prepared according to home recipes, along with the corn bread provided by one of the pupils and her mother?

Science becomes alive when they make their own model of a canoe after examining a 3' x 4' sheet of birch bark, obtained from a fallen tree by an interested father. Plants used for dyes are fascinating. In a story it says, "Dan Stonewell travelled by canoe for two moons and five suns." About how long would that be in our time? Is this science or mathematics?

You ask, "What of Literature?" The poem, "Indian Children" is very real to boys and girls. Having once lain on one's back looking up at the sky, seeing clouds drifting, hearing gentle breezes, smelling faint perfume, watching wild birds

St. Paul's Faith Unit

The Faith Unit of St. Paul's United Church Women met October 20 at the church. Twenty-six ladies were in attendance. Special prayer was made for those concerned with the recent tragic events in our country.

Attention was called to the forthcoming bazaar November 3, and the clothing drive later in the month.

The theme of the program was Thanksgiving. Worship was led by Mrs. W. Fitchett, pointing out that Thanksgiving should be for every day. Mrs. A. Bush read Psalm 100, beginning "Make a joyful noise unto the Lord," following with a meditation. Mrs. H. Philp sang "Bless This House" accompanied by Mrs. H. West.

Bible Study was led by Miss B. Hollinger. Besides for the usual blessings, thanks should also be given for tribulations which often lead to development of desirable character traits, such as patience, a sympathetic ear, humility, and dependence on God. "Life's disappointments are often God's appointments." Thanksgiving is a Christian grace which should be in daily evidence.

A social time with refreshments was enjoyed, and Mrs. R. Bush expressed thanks to the hostesses and all who had taken part.

Ontario. Is there any place you'd rather be?

Ontarians are the kind of people who wouldn't be here if there was any place better. We are people who came from a hundred lands and stayed to build. People with backbone and brawn and a hunger to succeed. Men and women who've created a standard of living in decades that other lands worked centuries to build. If we have a flaw it's our chronic modesty. Ontarians may be proud to be Ontarians and Canadians... they just seldom tell anyone. From an economic point of view that's wrong. The more people we have boosting Ontario and Canada the better it is. And we've got a lot to boost with. Ontario's war on water pollution, for example, is being waged and won. New regulations, many of which are the first of their kind in North America, are being enforced and many of our rivers and lakes are getting cleaner instead of dirtier. Housing is another battle, and on this front the Ontario Housing Corporation is active in nearly 200 communities with programs totalling close to a billion dollars. We need a vigorous economy of course, to support these important programs. And, that's where you come in. Though our productivity has doubled in ten years and our incomes in twelve, Ontarians don't sit on their successes. There's a demanding decade ahead full of challenges and opportunities to make the quality of our lives better yet. To meet these challenges we've got to believe in ourselves. Which, when you think about it, isn't such a bad idea.

Everytime you boost Ontario... Ontario and Canada get a little stronger.
Government of Ontario John Roberts, Prime Minister.

Heath-Parks

On Saturday, October 10, at 12 o'clock noon in Westminster United Church, Deborah Edith Marlene Parks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Parks, R.R. 2, Belleville, became the wife of William Clifford Heath, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Heath, R.R. 2, Stirling.

Rev. John F. Bunner officiated at the service and the organist was Mrs. Grace Sine. Jack Smith, uncle of the bride, sang two solos, O Perfect Love and I Do Not Ask.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of nylon tulle over taffeta. The bodice of the gown featured a wedding band collar and lily point sleeves. The gown had an empire waist trimmed with a band of the same material as the skirt, which fell in a soft A-line. Attached at the waistline by a self bow was a chapel train of the same sheer as the gown with a border of chantilly lace and the same lace applique patterned here and there. The headpiece consisted of a crownless Juliette cap of Alcon lace embroidered with seed pearls and attached to a 4 tier silk illusion veil. The bride carried a white Bible, a gift from her uncle, Jack Smith. The Bible was decorated with yellow sweetheart roses. White streamers trimmed with more yellow roses fell from the Bible.

The maid of honor, Miss Karen Clapp, R.R. 1, Foxboro, wore a dress of green peau de broche with a wedding band collar. The dress had an empire waistline, full skirt, short puffy sleeves, and a matching bow at the waistline on the back. The headpiece was a bow of the same material and color. The three bridesmaids, who were Miss Nancy Parks, sister of the bride; Miss Judy Heath, sister of the groom; and Miss Leslie Anne Parks, sister of the bride, were dressed the same as the maid of honor, except that the color of their gowns was gold instead of green. The flower girl, Miss Joyce Christine Heath, sister of the groom, was dressed in green identical to the maid of honor. Master Gregory Parks, brother of the bride, was the ring bearer. He wore a green jacket, gold tie and grey flannels and carried a white, satin heart-shaped pillow trimmed with lace.

The reception was held at Westminster United Church auditorium.

The bride's mother's gown was a gold dress-coat ensemble, trimmed with brown. She wore a matching gold hat, brown accessories and corsage of yellow sweetheart roses.

The groom's mother's gown consisted of a turquoise turtleneck double-knit dress with brown accessories and she also wore a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses.

For a wedding trip to points west and north in the Muskoka the bride wore a long sleeved beige coat and dress with a stand up collar, A-line and a tie belt at the front. The outfit had brown accessories and the bride wore a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses.

Out of town guests were from Whitby, Willowdale, Toronto, Napanee, Wellington, Peterborough, Stratford, Ottawa and Oakville.

A kitchen shower was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Cecil Wannamaker of Belleville. A miscellaneous shower was held at the home of Mrs. Clifford Clapp of Wallbridge with hostess Miss Karen Clapp. A miscellaneous shower was also held at the home of Mrs. Hudson Ketcheson of Wallbridge with co-hostess Mrs. Jack Cole. A gift was also presented to the bride by the staff of Stirling Public School, where the bride is teaching.

The newlyweds will take up residence at R.R. 2, Stirling.

Letter to the editor

Dear Sir: Psychologists and psychiatrists tell us that most of the problems of today stem from lack of communication. So when we have good news let's communicate. Every day radio, press and other media relate news of lack of respect, lack of application and a couldn't-care-less attitude, until many of us have actually believed that these stories speak for all of our young people. This is not so.

Just a short time ago, we were fighting to keep the Stirling-Rawdon District High School. Many felt that our young people would be lost in the crowds at the Belleville school. On the contrary, many of the boys and girls have attained a high degree of satisfaction. Some have attained high honors. I wish to commend one of these boys.

Lloyd Dunham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dunham, R.R. 5, Stirling, a former pupil of the Stirling High School, and who received ALL of his elementary education in a little red school house, namely S.S. No. 17, Rawdon (Snarr's), recently won high honors, which have not been reported in this paper by the people of this district would like to extend congratulations to such an outstanding young man. Lloyd won the Hon. J. R. Cooke scholarship, the award for the highest in Grade 13 physics, in the Grade 13 Sr. Math. Contest, the Hastings County academic achievement; he was an Ontario Scholar and the valedictorian for the commencement at Centennial secondary School. Lloyd is an all-around Canadian boy and this community can well be proud of his success.

Perhaps our Stirling and district students, could, in future, see that we are informed of their achievements. We are still interested, even though we have no local secondary school.

A we(a)kly mixup

There was an average attendance of about 40 Senior Citizens on Thursday. Marjorie Cook was a very welcome visitor and we hope she will return next week and bring along her husband. How about that Carl? Margaret Fitchett, Iva Aythart and a girl whose name spelled backwards is still Ada, served a lovely lunch.

Ernie Munro, who finally got his birthday established, is now 80 years old. His daughter-in-law, Ruth, sent along a delicious birthday cake for the occasion.

We played euchre and dominoes and dis ole Scribe thinks we'd be good doing the dance the kids are doing today. They don't speak, they don't look at each other, they don't touch. They act as if they've been married 30 years. One couple I know 30 years married, still go out to dinner and dance twice a week. She goes on Mondays and Wednesdays and he goes on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Just to put you straight, when you see a father and son together, the one with the beard is the son.

CANADA COMPARED TO ALGERIA

By Bill Smiley

In the past few weeks, Canada has gone through an emotional catharsis which may yet, despite the bitter medicine which brought it about, turn a psychotic nation into a strong and healthy one.

Our emotions have run the gamut of shock, despair and shame to a deep anger and determination. There is something of the feeling of 1939 in the air, a feeling that wild beasts, when they are infected by a type of rabies, must be destroyed.

Canadians, at all levels, have realized that it is rather silly to preach either Christian brotherhood, or democracy, to a mad dog.

What we are going through is something that never has happened in this nation before. There have been many crises in the growth of our nation. We had our Plains of Abraham and our War of 1812. But these were fought by soldiers.

We had our rebellions in Upper and Lower Canada. Both served a purpose, but they were comic opera, compared to what's happening today. If I'm not mistaken, the F.L.Q. has murdered more men than were killed in William Lyon Mackenzie's attack on Toronto in 1837.

We had the Riel Rebellion, a tragic farce for a tragic people, led by a tragic hero without a real hope of knocking over the establishment.

But none of them came close to the senseless violence, the vicious, amoral destructiveness that we have experienced in this autumn of 1970.

The comparison that comes closest, perhaps, is that deadly period in Algeria a few years ago, when the French withdrew. French Algerians and Arab Algerians killed each other with a callous impersonality that shocked the civilized world.

That was not war. It was assassination. People were blown up at lunch in a restaurant, or attending the theatre. Others were shot down in the streets, for no reason except that they were on the other side. Pray that this never happens in Canada. But it could, unless the nation unites to smother the blaze and deal firmly and finally with those who would throw oil on it.

I don't want to sound like a Cassandra with hindsight. I don't think it can happen in Canada. But it will take courage, and calm, to prevent it. How did it happen? It is obvious that the government, and certain police forces, were caught with their pants down. They were warned by the press and by the actions of the F.L.Q. itself, that this was more than "a little trouble in Quebec".

They must have known that this was a body of warped men, and women, dedicated to the destruction of Canada. There was ample evidence of the violence perpetrated by similar groups of fanatics around the world. It demanded swift and drastic measures. Where were they?

Then, when the horse is gone, the barn door is locked. The War Emergencies Act is imposed. While a majority of Canadians, in my opinion, would support the government on this point, in the minds of many it has raised a fear, an uneasiness that is not dispelled by government platitudes.

This move was like declaring open season on anybody the police might suspect, or even dislike. Friends of mine who have lived in police states in Europe are particularly dismayed by it.

Indicent. Three police cruisers drew up at the home of a widow with three teenage kids, on the Saturday morning the Act was imposed. Without a warrant, they searched the house for drugs, even examining all her plants to see whether she was growing pot. They found nothing. They took one of the boys to the police station and questioned him for three hours. She was distraught.

Trying times ahead? Yes. But chin up, chaps, both of them. You can't make an omelet without breaking eggs. The rats will scurry back to their holes. And let's hope nobody in power will draw to an inside straight.

ASK THE PASTOR

Dear Pastor:

"I have a very attractive daughter who has had a good environment all her life, and devoted parents; yet she does things and has ideas that distress her father and me very much."

"She resents our every attempt to control her and calls us 'old fashioned' when we try to keep her from doing things of which we disapprove, such as frequenting the apartment of a young man, I tell her that can lead to no good, and her answer is, 'Oh, mother, can't you come up to date?'"

What can I do about it?

Distressed.

Dear Distressed:

"You might tell your daughter it isn't virtue and decency that are 'old-fashioned'— it is wrongdoing."

There hasn't been a new sin invented since the fruit-eating experience in the Garden of Eden, and it would be amusing if it were not so tragic, that the young people of today think that they are the first people in all the history of the world who ever strayed off the straight and narrow path.

"Everybody has always been doing it." Read Romans 3:23, "For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God." We all have sinned against God. The only answer is that we turn from our ways to His ways as Romans 10:9, says, "That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved."

Any problems or questions, please mail them to Box 126, Stirling, in care of Ask the Pastor.

STIRLING PUBLIC LIBRARY

The Stirling Public Library will re-open "Story Hour" next Saturday, November 7, for boys and girls from Kindergarten to Grade three. We hope to see many of our old friends, and some new ones too, so if you like to listen to stories, and are old enough to sit quietly and listen, the time is two o'clock next Saturday. Friday night films will begin again next week, too, at 7:30 Friday, 6th November.

On our Library shelves we have many new titles, both fiction and non-fiction:

"Silent Spring" by Rachel Carson wrote "Silent Spring" in 1962, voicing her controversial concern about the growing pollution stemming from the advances of modern "civilization". Since then, of course, her view has been vindicated, and Frank Graham Jr. describes the background of Rachel Carson as a woman and a scientist, and goes on to discuss the continuing danger to our environment, and what can be done now to change the situation.

In "Computer: The Mind Stretcher" Weyman Jones gives a stimulating and comprehensive explanation of these amazing machines.

A timely guide for family living is "Being a Parent: Unchanging Values in a Changing World" by Karl S. Bernhardt. This book brings together articles written during the late Dr. Bernhardt's work with the Institute of Child Study of the University of Toronto, and is written in a simple and direct style.

Friends of P. G. Wodehouse will enjoy reprints of their old favourites, "Uncle Fred In the Springtime" and "Fish Preferred".

For Science Fiction fans, is "2001, a Space Odyssey" by Arthur C. Clarke, fellow of the Royal Astronomical Society, who has written many books in the prophetic tradition of Jules Verne.

"The Avenue" by R. F. Delderfield is a saga of life in London, a portrait of the time from the First World War to 1948; and Pearl S. Buck has written "The Three Daughters of Madame Liang", bringing to her readers the China of yesterday, today and tomorrow.

"The Lighthouse Quest" by Ann Bridge combines humour and international intrigue, which will be sure to please many readers who enjoy Miss Bridge's witty adventure tales.

"The Anderson Tapes" by Lawrence Sanders is an original piece of fiction that catches up the reader into the planning of an audacious crime, and its aftermath.

"All the Little Live Things" by Wallace Stegner, is a moving story of the "generation gap" written with insight and compassion.

We have many new mysteries too, and hope to bring you more titles in the near future. Until then, Happy Reading!

HONORED GUESTS AT LEGION RECEPTION AND TEA

Four Silver Cross mothers and two fathers of men lost in battle were among the guests of honor at a reception and tea sponsored by the officers and members of

Branch 228, Royal Canadian Legion, held at the Legion hall Sunday afternoon. Some

Nixon to attend Tweed convention

The Hon. Robert Nixon, leader of the Ontario Liberal Party and also leader of the Opposition in the Ontario Legislature, will attend the Hastings Provincial Liberal Association nomination convention on Wednesday, November 18 in Tweed.

The convention, to be held in the auditorium of the Tweed-Hungerford Senior School (formerly the Tweed-Hungerford District High School) at 8 p.m., has been called to select a candidate to represent the Liberal Party in Hastings county at the next Provincial election expected sometime during 1971.

Clark T. Rollins, M.L.A. for Hastings, was nominated Progressive Conservative candidate at a nomination meeting of that party held some time ago. The last provincial election was held in October of 1967, when the Progressive Conservatives under the leadership of John Robarts were returned to office.

Some local members of the Liberal Party at Tweed say that all this will be changed at the time of the next election, and add that they are looking forward to the coming election with new confidence.

The Tory Party has been in office too long, they say, and that a change in government in Toronto is long overdue. Noting that many Ontario residents are dissatisfied with rising costs of education, rising taxes at all levels of government, and the arrogant attitude of many highly paid civil servants, the local Liberal Party officials are predicting a landslide shift in support from the Progressive Conservative Party at the time of the 1971 election. Basing their plans on this assumption, the Party is now making plans to provide Ontario with an efficient form of government, something that has been sadly lacking during the past few years.

The public is invited to attend the November 18 meeting at Tweed, which will be addressed by other Liberal M.L.A.'s in addition to the Opposition Leader, Robert Nixon and the candidates.

According to recent rumor, at least one Tweed resident is planning to toss a hat into the ring.

Stirling Food Market expands

A renovation and expansion program is under way at Stirling Food Market, Mill St., where the proprietors, Rudy and Ed Klompaker, recently acquired the Earl Johnson bake shop building immediately to the east.

Wieger Dejong, contractor, has begun the task of renovating the Johnson building which will become part of the Food Market. The work is expected to be completed by Christmas.

With the acquisition of the 30 by 24 foot Johnson building, the frontage of Stirling Food Market will be more than doubled. Rudy Klompaker told the News-Argus the store will have a greatly expanded meat counter, a larger dairy counter and substantially more lines of grocery products.

The front of the expanded store will receive a facelift, with a new door built near the centre. Customers will enter through the new door at side walk level, instead of having to go up two steps as at present.

Mr. Klompaker, who has been in business at this location for the past six years, says he plans to remain independent rather than become affiliated with a food chain.

A fellowship meeting for all Stirling Churches will be held at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Monday, Nov. 16, at 8 p.m.

Senior Citizens still growing

One more member was added to our list on Thursday. We welcome Everett Cooke and would like others to know that we always have room for one more. We all enjoyed the lunch served by Annie Faulkner and Jessie Johnson.

It is interesting to note that this column is read in Calgary. Don Morton, who years ago was Stirling's star goal tender in the old Trent Valley League and is now a financier in Calgary, sent us a recipe for turkey dressing. I guess he's gone gourmet for a hobby. This recipe was so popular when read by dis ole Scribe that he thinks he may have to have several printed to meet the demand. It's pretty long to put in this column, but if you call on me personally, I'll have it for you to read or copy. Thanks, Don. Those using our recipe can eliminate the stove timer. Talking about cooking reminds me of a sign in a bake shop. It read like this - "Don't think because bread is the staff of life that the life of this staff is one continual loaf."

Community school activities

MONDAY, NOV. 2, 7:30 P.M. Ladies' Sewing Club at Senior School had a turnout of over 50 persons. Some people will soon be finished their first sewing project.

Woodworking and Metalcrafts Club had nine people working on individual items. There is room for a few more interested people in this activity.

TUESDAY, NOV. 3, 8:00 P.M. Community Schools Association Committee met in the library of the Junior School. Chairman Jack Weatherill was pleased with the activities' progress. Plans were instituted for a Youth Drama Club to commence later this month.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 4, 7:30 P.M. The Adult Volleyball Club played several games at the Senior School gymnasium and enjoyed coffee afterwards. More members are required to form two more volleyball teams. Experience is not necessary. There will be no volleyball Wednesday, November 11.

THURSDAY, NOV. 5, 7:30 P.M. The Teenage Sports Club had a turnout of about 30 for their sports evening. The Badminton Club section is fully under way each Thursday in the Junior School while those interested in Basketball, Volleyball, Indoor Soccer, etc., use the facilities of the Senior School.

Wins Silver Medal

On Oct. 31, Bill McArton, accompanied by his parents, accompanied by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart McArton and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lowe of King City, attended Music Convocation at Western Conservatory of Music, London. Bill was presented with the highest standing in the Grade 8 Organ examination for the 1969-70 season.

St. Paul's holds imaginary bazaar

The money tree and its contents were presented and dedicated by the minister. Mrs. Wells thanked everyone for coming to share in this program and invited all to remain for a social time with refreshments served.

This being the 5th annual fund show, the usual splendid crowd from the village and surrounding area came to enjoy the program and have a good laugh.

Mrs. Roy Tucker was chairman, Mrs. Craig Watson, pianist, and Mrs. Harold West, songleader.

All artists were in costume appropriate for the skit presented. The volunteers, with Pat Merrill as teacher, dramatized "Past school days" with eleven pupils taking part.

Bethany Unit, with Jean Small as Master of Ceremonies, presented a similar Ted Mack Show with "Sleep's Edge" tonic as a commercial.

Faith Unit puzzled the audience with its gongue twisters by Lenora West and Hilda Rose. This was followed by a safe recipe given by Jessie Warren, "How to Cook a Husband."

River Valley portrayed a newly organized men's club Barbara and Jo-Anne Hearnings sang a duet (in costume), "You Can't Play in My Yard," with Mrs. A. Pyeat at the piano.

Mrs. Harry Brown and Rev. J. Small gave two novelty musical numbers.

Volunteers being sought. Once again, local organizations have been asked to volunteer for canteen duty at the Stirling Arena. In the past, the rink committee has received co-operation along these lines from the Stirling Legion branch, Stirling Rotary Club, Stirling fire department, Rawdon fire department, St. Paul's Men's Club and Rawdon Men's Club. Any men's or women's organizations willing to assist in this volunteer work are asked to get in touch with Wieger Dejong.

LEGIONNAIRES REMEMBER

Among those attending Stirling Legion's Reception and Tea for Silver Cross mothers on Sunday were (from left) Bert Bastedo, Stirling zone commander of Legion Zone F3; J. Coulson, Consecrated deputy zone commander; Charles Bamard, life member of the Stirling branch and a veteran of the Boer War, World War One and

World War Two; and Wieger Dejong, president of the local branch. News-Argus Photo.

Strawberries and cheese strictly for the birds

BY ELIZABETH APPERLEY.

Christopher Robin, like many other Canadians, has gone south for the winter. We hope he'll return to our lawn in late March, or early April.

Christopher was one of four young, hatched in a nest on our

Hydro meter. As his parents fed the young on the lawn, we noticed one was disabled; he could fly, and perch, but when hopping, often tumbled over. When the parents had a second brood in the same nest, and had given up feeding the first family, the awkward one grew weaker and more disabled. The weather had been so dry that worms were down deep and hard to find.

We decided to help the starving youngster, dug until we found a few worms, and got close enough to throw one on a board near him. He saw it wiggling, investigated, and gulped it. Our work had begun. He came to the board about every two hours, and we tried never to disappoint him, but worms were becoming scarce. One day, in strawberry season, when having our lunch outdoors, we threw Christopher a berry. He never seen one, but didn't hesitate a second in swallowing it, so strawberries were added to his "diet of worms." Then someone offered him cheese, and our work of digging for worms was over. He thrived on mild cheese, becoming stronger, and quite a handsome fellow, with his speckled front and white throat.

His father, busy feeding the second family, decided cheese would be a big help to him, but Christopher wouldn't allow him near his feeding spot while he was there. By this time, the Missouri currants were ripening on a nearby bush, and he took possession of this also. Finally he went away on his own, as rains had provided plenty of worms, but his hard-working father, feeding his third family, raised in a new nest, still came for the cheese. They had no preference for one local cheese over another, but did prefer the mild to old.

Several years ago, in strawberry season, when driving on the road west from Foxboro, I saw a flock of birds fluttering above an object on the pavement. They flew off as I drove by, but in the mirror, I saw they immediately returned to their fluttering. Fortunately, there was no traffic, and I went back to see what was going on. A barn swallow had been struck by a car, I suppose, and was dazed, and about a dozen other swallows were encouraging it to revive. As I watched, it fluttered to the road side, with the flock above it, then recovered completely and all went off rejoicing.

This example of loving concern for others gave me such a thrill that I would be much interested in any other person's account of similar action observed in birds or animals.

IODE Chapter holds meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Hon. J. R. Cooke Chapter, I.O.D.E. was held at the home of Mrs. Donald Rodgers on Thursday evening, October 29.

The Regent, Mrs. Robert Hough, presided over the general business. Three new members, Mrs. Everett Cooke, Mrs. Ted Reynolds and Mrs. Creighton Harrop were welcomed into the Order.

During the program, Eamon Murphy, a teacher at Centre Hastings Secondary School at Madoc, presented a most interesting account of his teaching position and life in Nigeria from 1966 to 1969.

Mr. Murphy showed movies illustrating life and problems facing those who took up the challenge of medicine and teaching in this developing country.

A tasty lunch was served by the hostess and committee. Mrs. Rodgers, Mrs. Eugene Burrell and Mrs. Edwin Warren.

A social hour was enjoyed during which time members had an opportunity to question Mr. Murphy informally in regard to his unusual experiences in Africa.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Doug Ackers on November 26.

Farm Skills Course Offered

Applications from low income rural people in the Quinte district wishing to upgrade their skills in dairy and beef farming are being invited to a 10-week agricultural workers' course at Kemptonville College.

County ARDA counsellor Clayton Hall at Stirling notes that the demand for skilled farm workers far exceeds the supply. The 10-week course at Kemptonville commencing Jan. 11 next year is aimed at making applicants better equipped for full-time employment on large farm operations in Ontario.

Students approved by ARDA and Canada Manpower will receive the normal adult retraining allowances while on course.

Farmers Warned Again

Despite earlier warnings for eading claims by companies providing farm record and income tax filing services, the Stirling agricultural office continues to receive complaints. Earlier this year, the Stirling office prepared a leaflet cautioning farmers to make certain of the services to be received before signing any agreement. Copies of the leaflet are still available.

Agricultural officials warn farmers to make certain exactly what they are paying for when they sign up for farm record service and income tax filing. "Do not be pressured into signing if you wish to think it over or talk to someone else about the services being offered," an agricultural office release re-emphasizes. "Farm records are essential and every farm should be filing an income tax return. However, when you are paying someone to assist you to do this you should be receiving the best service available."

MOUNT PLEASANT-RAWDON MARK 99TH ANNIVERSARY

On Sunday, November 1st, Mount Pleasant United Church or the Rawdon Charge observed their 99th Anniversary.

The church was adorned with large bouquets of autumn flowers. There were two pots of yellow 'mums' in memory of the late Mrs. Ross Hoard, given by her husband and family.

A large number of worshippers were in attendance and individual former residents and visitors from various points.

Mrs. Malcolm Sharp, organist and Miss Linda Potts, pianist, contributed several selections of music for both prelude and postlude.

Rev. John Bunner, Sidney Pastoral Charge, conducted the morning service and based his message on the theme With Our Backs to the Temple. The service opened with Come, Thou Almighty King, and the other hymns were This Is My Father's World and Spirit of God.

The senior choir rendered two selections, There's a Song in My Heart and The Heart of the Master.

The ushers were Grant Dunham, Howard Jeffs, Burton Sharpe and Kenneth Weaver.

In the evening Rev. W. C. Cox conducted the service and Rev. Bunner based his message on the theme The Many Splendored Thing. The hymns were For the Beauty of the Earth, The Lord's My Shepherd and I hear Thy Welcome Voice.

The Junior choir, under the direction of Mrs. Robert H. Hoard, gave two anthems A Peace That Will Never Go Away, and There's A Song Ringing In My Heart.

Mount Pleasant Church was dedicated in June, 1871, and was named Hubble Hill Episcopal Methodist Church in honor of the first settlers Nehemiah Hubble and Barce Hubble who were United Empire Loyalist and hewed their homes out of the wilderness.

Sometime in 1900 the church was renamed Mount Pleasant. The first minister was Rev. L. H. McDonald and in the ninety-nine years there have been nineteen ministers.

Today we pay glorious tribute to those far-sighted pioneers who built the church in 1871 and to all who have served in any capacity since that time. May our one hundredth year be of greater service to all mankind.

Mrs. Warren Harlow accompanied by Mrs. Harry Kelly of Warkworth were guests of Miss Helen Hopkins of Lindsay and Saturday visited Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stewart, Haliburton.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon McIntosh were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Westfall and Betty, Bayside and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hageman, Newcastle.

IN MEMORIAM

WANNAMAKER-In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Leonard William Wan-namaker who passed away on November 11, 1969.

We do not need a special day,
To bring you to our minds,
For the days we do not think of you,
Are very hard to find.

We'd give it yes and more,
To see the face of father
dear,
Come smiling through the door.

Ever remembered and sadly missed by son Wayne, daughter-in-law Helen, grandchildren Cheryl, Shelley, and Penny. 43-1

WANNAMAKER-In loving memory of a dear father and papa
Leonard William, who passed away on Oct. 11, 1969.

What would we give if we could say,
"Hello Dad," the same old way.

To hear your voice and see your smile,
And sit and talk with you
awhile,

We were not there to say goodbye,
Perhaps it was just as well,
We never could have said
goodbye,

To a dad we loved so well,
We mourn for you in silence,
No eyes can see us weep,
But many a silent tear is shed,
While others are asleep.

Sadly missed and always remembered by daughter Sandra, son, Gordon and grandchildren, Kelly Lynn, Debbie, and Yvonne. 43-1

WANNAMAKER-In loving memory of my brother, Leonard Wannamaker who passed away on Nov. 11, 1969. My dear
Dad, Foster Wannamaker who passed away on Nov. 27,
1969. Also my dear Mother,
Eva Adelaide Wannamaker, who passed away on Dec. 16, 1961.

A silent thought, a secret
tear,
Keeps their memory ever dear,
Time takes away the edge of grief,
But memory turns back every leaf.

Always remembered by Hazel, Alfred Akins and children Robert, Carl and Mary. 43-1

WANNAMAKER-In loving memory of a dear husband, Leonard William, who passed away Nov. 11, 1969.

Through the tears in my eyes
do not glisten,
And my face is not always sad,

There is never a night of mourning but

I think of the husband I had,
Not a day do I forget you,
In my heart you are always near.

For I loved you and miss you,
As it dawns another year,
Thoughts return to scenes
long past,
Years roll on but memories
last.

Sadly missed by wife Nora. 43-1

MORGAN -- In loving memory of husband, father and grandfather, Reginald J. who passed away November 14, 1968.

He bade no one his last farewell,
He said good-bye to none,
The heavenly gates were opened,

A loving voice said "Come".
We often sit and think of you,
The things you used to say,
We wonder why you had to die,
Without a chance to say goodbye.

Sadly missed by his wife and family. 43-1

LAKE-In loving memory of a dear son and brother, Robert Lake who passed away November 16, 1960.

The world may change from year to year,
And friends from day to day,
But never will the one we loved,
From memory pass away,
Always remembered by the family.

IN MEMORIAM

HUBBLE: Percy-In loving memory of our dear brother who passed away Nov. 15, 1959.

God took him home, it was His will,
But in our hearts we love him
still;
His memory is as dear to-day
As in the hour he passed away.

We often sit and think of him
When we are all alone,
For Memory is the only friend
That grief can call its own.
Sadly missed by Clifford and Mabel. 43-1

Watson - Montgomery
St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Stirling, was the setting for a wedding on Saturday, October 24, when Jo-Anne Montgomery became united in marriage to Michael Frank Watson in a double ring ceremony.
The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant F. Montgomery, Stirling and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Watson, Batawa.
Rev. A. L. Sutherland, Belleville, officiated at the three o'clock ceremony. Baskets of yellow gladioli, bronze and yellow chrysanthemums adorned the church for the ceremony. Appropriate wedding music was played by John DeVries.
Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of crystal peau with an empire waistline and wedding ring collar trimmed with Guipere lace. The full sleeves with a tight cuff and the bodice of her dress were trimmed with Guipere lace. Her chapel length train attached at the waistline with bows, was trimmed with lace. Her four-tiered silk illusion veil was held in place with a floral headpiece of floral Guipere lace with seed pearls and she carried a cascade of Woburn Abbey roses and ivy.

The maid of honor, Sharon Bailey, and the bridesmaids Jane West and Mrs. R. McCrory were dressed alike in floor length gowns of chartreuse nylon chiffon over taffeta with full long sleeves, wedding band collars, empire waists. The bodice, collar and cuffs were trimmed with rows of Swiss lace. They wore florettes of chartreuse Sw. lace entwined in their hair and they carried wicker baskets filled with yellow, bronze and white poms and wheat.
The groom was assisted by Paul Whalen, Batawa, as best man, while the ushers were Richard Montgomery, brother of the bride and Marjan Medved, Batawa.
The reception was held in the church parlors where the mother of the bride received the guests. She wore a gold and blue dress with matching jacket, gold accessories and a corsage of amber gold roses. She was assisted by the mother of the groom who wore a green crespille dress, black accessories and a corsage of golden wave roses.
For a honeymoon to Lake Placid, N.Y., the bride changed to a pale green pantsuit with black and silver accessories and a corsage of yellow cymbidium orchids. Mr. and Mrs. Watson will reside in Batawa upon their return.
Out of town guests were present from Port Dover, Napanee, Perth, Brockville, Pembroke, Tweed, Trenton and Batawa.
Before her marriage, the bride was honored with several showers. Mrs. Grant Stapley, Stirling, held a miscellaneous shower at their home with co-hostesses Cheryl Stapley and Jane West; the co-workers at Mead Johnson, Belleville, held a shower at the home of Mrs. K. C. Duesbury, Belleville; a miscellaneous shower at Batawa with co-hostesses Mrs. Kenneth Walsh and Mrs. Michael Brow. Mrs. Robert Philip, Stirling, held a miscellaneous shower in her home, following rehearsal. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Watson held a party at their Batawa home.

Remembrance Day speaker praises Canada's armed forces

BY ROY LEWIS
(News-Argus Reporter)

ON BEHALF OF STIRLING

Donald W. Rodgers, reeve of Stirling, placed a wreath on the Cenotaph last Wednesday morning on behalf of the village for area residents who gave their lives in the last two World Wars. (Photo by Roy Lewis).

Political strife in Quebec was the key point in a speech given by Rev. James F. McGarvey when he spoke at the Remembrance Day services held at the village cenotaph last Wednesday morning.

In reference to the kidnappings and murder, Father McGarvey said "the thought comes to mind that our comrades, who made the supreme sacrifice, have been betrayed."

He also said, to the more than 300 people gathered at the cenotaph, "a few people rebelled against legitimately established law and in doing so caused a national emergency which was a grave threat to our nation."

Father McGarvey gave high praise to the armed forces who supported local law enforcement officers and as a result, "a national tragedy was averted."

In a brief outline of the hardships encountered in both wars, he said, "For the most part it (the Second World War) did not have the hardships of prolonged trench warfare and the members of the armed forces were spared that great suffering. They were not spared the suffering of hunger, fatigue, cold, bombings, front line battles, mutilation and prisoner of war camps."

Father McGarvey reminded those present that services for the war dead were being held the national capital, at various war memorials throughout Canada and in many foreign countries at our national cemeteries there.

"This wise nation of ours decorates the graves of its illustrious dead," he said.

He gave high credit to the Royal Canadian Legion for the work it does in the community and in this regard said, "our war dead live on with us in the good works that are done in their name."

The Remembrance Day service began with a parade which proceeded down Front St., across the St. James Street bridge and down Mill St. to the Cenotaph.

This year's parade was led by a color party followed by several members of Branch 228 and a contingent of Girl Guides, Brownies, Scouts and Cubs.

The last post and reveille were played by Paul Jones. John DeVries, with his accordion, supplied music for O Canada, The Queen and the hymn, O Valiant Hearts.

The following people laid wreaths at the Cenotaph: B. Bastedo, Zone Commander, Zone F3, Royal Canadian Legion; W. DeJong, president of Branch 228, Stirling; D. W. Rodgers, reeve, Village of Stirling; R. E. Shortt, deputy reeve, Township of Rawdon; Miss Rosa Spry, representing the Robert Cooke Chapter of the I.O.D.E.; Mrs. Mary Cooke, president of the Stirling Women's Institute; Fred Heasman, president of the Stirling Senior Citizens club; B. Faulkner, representing the Stirling L.O.O.F.; Mrs. W. DeJong, representing the Dutch residents of Stirling and area; Miss Lana LaChapelle, representing the students of Stirling and area attending Centennial Secondary School; Mrs. Frank Wood, in memory of her son Jack Wood; Mrs. Oliver Stapley, in memory of her son Donald Stapley; Mrs. Wesley Ray, in memory of her son Raymond Ray; William Reynolds, in memory of Mrs. E. Hansey, in memory of her son, John Hansey; Mrs. R. L. Hulst, on behalf of Mrs. Russell Stapley, in memory of her son Ralph Stapley; Ray Turner, in memory of Mrs. D. M. Mackay, in memory of her son James Muir; B. Bastedo, in memory of H. C. Martin, in memory of his son, Ivan H. Martin; Fred Dainard, in memory of his brother Stanley Dainard; Mrs. Frank McGee, in memory of her brother, Aubrey Rodgers; Gerald Kerby, in memory of his brother, Stewart Kerby; G. Noble, on behalf of L. Kirkey, in memory of his brother Edward Kirkey; Elwood Wilson, on behalf of Mrs. Orrie Seeley, in memory of her brother Floyd Williamson; R. E. Fox, on behalf of Gerald Taylor, in memory of his brother Harold Taylor; Mrs. B. Woodbeck, in memory of cousins Irwin and Morris Woodbeck; and G. Appleby, in memory of all our fallen comrades of World War One.

The men, from Stirling and area, who gave their lives in the First World War were: D. L. Anderson, Roy Bean, Roy Bissonette, Arthur Conley, Alexander Conley, Fred Daley, George Gilroy, Ernest Gould, Norman Payne, Arnold Rutherford and Vincent Whitty.

Those killed in the Second World War were: Coolidge Ashley, Stanley Dainard, Ivan H. Martin, Aubrey Rodgers, Donald Stapley, Ralph Stapley, Alvin Stoneburg, Jack Wood, Irvine Woodbeck and Maurice Woodbeck.

The deputy-minister stated in the letter that too large a quantity of salt on the highways constitutes a pollution problem and that only quantities of road salt necessary for safety should be used. It does not prevent the salt from being mixed with sand beforehand.

COLOR PARTY AT CENOTAPH

A color party stood on each side of the Legion Cenotaph in Stirling for the Remembrance Day service last Wednesday morning. It included members of Branch 228 and representatives from local Brownie, Girl Guide, Cub and Scout groups.

Robert Anderson to seek reeveship; Rodgers retiring

Councillor Robert Anderson, who has served on village council continuously for the past 10 years, confirmed to the News-Argus yesterday his intention to stand for the reeveship.

Reeve Donald W. Rodgers, chief magistrate in Stirling for the past six years, said he did not plan to run for municipal office this year.

Nominations for the offices of reeve, four councillors and two public utilities Commissioners will be received at the Stirling Community Hall on Monday evening, Nov. 30. All offices are to be filled for two-year terms.

In the event an election is required, it will be held on Monday, Dec. 7.

Nominations will be received at the Sidney township municipal building on Monday, Nov. 23, between 6:30 and 7:30 p.m., for candidates to fill the offices of two trustees to the Hastings County board of education in Ward 6. Included in this ward are the villages of Frankford and Stirling and the township of Sidney. The incumbents are Don Williams of Stirling and Raymond Rowe of Frankford.

Councillor Anderson has served under four Stirling Reeves—Carl Bateman, Graham Mouck, Bert Jones and Reeve Rodgers.

Reeve Rodgers entered municipal politics in 1950. In 1969, he brought distinction to Stirling by being selected warden of Hastings County.

He is a member of the Highlands of Hastings Tourist Association and a director of the Lake Ontario Regional Development Council, among many other duties.

Council endorses hunter education

At the Monday night meeting of Stirling Village Council, one of the items read by Village Clerk W. L. Pollock was a copy of a letter from the Belleville Fish and Game Club to the Hon. Rene Brunelle, minister of Lands and Forests for the Province of Ontario. The letter, copies of which have also been sent to many sportsmen's clubs in the area, outlined the problems of having hunters who have become Canadian citizens only recently, but without special education in regard to Canadian hunting laws and practices.

Reeve D. W. Rodgers commented that he felt this suggestion was worthwhile. It was moved by councillor Maurice Faulkner and seconded by councillor Claude Trumble that the development of a program of hunter education be supported.

Belleville Presbyterial United Church Women Meet

With the president, Mrs. T. W. Spear in the chair, the fall executive meeting of Belleville Presbyterial, United Church Women was held in Tabernacle United Church, Belleville, on Monday, November 9. All members of the executive, and Mrs. B. Stenson and Mrs. E. R. Nelson, president and vice-president of Tabernacle U.C.W. were present. After a welcome from the president, a devotional period was led by Mrs. T. G. P. Barlow of Trenton. The long agenda was dealt with in morning and afternoon sessions. At noon a hot luncheon was served by Tabernacle U.C.W. Miss Helen Sexsmith, portfolio secretary of Supply and Welfare, reported that there had been a gratifying response to the appeal for Angola. After being received and dedicated at the Fall Rallies, much practical aid in the form of knit bandages, and hospital and surgical supplies, is already on the way to Angola. Appreciation was expressed for the service being given by the transport firm of Direct Winters, who delivered clothing collected by the Presbyterial to the United Church's supply depot in Toronto. The five regional vice-presidents reported that the Fall Rallies were well-attended and interesting.

Much attention was given to planning the Presbyterial annual meeting which will be held in Tabernacle United Church, Belleville, on February 11, 1971, with morning and afternoon sessions. The theme chosen is: "Responsible Communication." The Presbyterial is extremely fortunate in having been able to obtain an expert in the field of communication, Dr. A. C. Forrest, editor of the United Church Observer, to address the morning session. Dr. Forrest recently returned from a month-long trip to the Middle East and will give a first hand view of the thorny Arab-Israeli problem. At the afternoon session, problems met in the local will be exposed and examined by means of an amusing play, "An Exercise in Futility."

Arrangements were made to receive annual reports from local and Presbyterial officers for the annual meetings of Presbyterial, Conference and Board of Women. At the conclusion of the business, Mrs. Spear closed the meeting with a poem and prayer.

Foxboro's Foley Wins Competition

The Foxboro maker took top honors for white and colored cheddar made in September or October of this year and also for three-colored Canadian Stilton-style cheddar.

He placed second in judging for the August cheddar section and seventh in the June or July section.

Mr. Foley has placed consistently high in British Empire Dairy show competition in Belleville where he has won the grand championship on at least two occasions.

Letter to the editor

Dear Sir:
Last year during the whole hockey season we had a conflict in our Sunday School. The conflict was to attend Sunday School or to be true to the hockey team and go to hockey practice on Sunday morning.

The same conflict is on again this year. I cannot see why well-meaning adults should put children through this conflict.
Society agrees there should be moral instruction and that religious training is good. But no one in society is willing to do this except the church.

Even people who do not attend church realize that without religious values, society disintegrates - as it is doing. In the churches we have an average compromised ourselves to the point where we are lucky if people come for one hour a week.

Now, for hockey, we are asked to give up this hour of Sunday School. In the Primary and Junior Depts. of St. Paul's Church, we have an average attendance of 100 pupils and 16 teachers. Surely this shows that a good many people are still desirous of learning about the spiritual life.

I know that many people who contributed to the support of Stirling arena would not have contributed if they had known that the hockey season would bring such pressure on children.
Now, if the hockey leaders cannot be prevailed upon to take notice of the work of the church, surely parents who are responsible will see that their children for one hour a week are in Sunday School.

If you kill the Sunday School today, you have killed the society of the future.

Sincerely,

Rev. J. Bruce Small
Minister of
St. Paul's United Church.

Armstrong-Frechette

In a ceremony on Saturday, October 24, in St. Michael's Church, Belleville at 11:00 a.m., Janet Mary Frechette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Frechette, Belleville, became the bride of Donald Edward Armstrong, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Max Armstrong, Stirling.

The service was conducted by the Rev. William Harrison, a cousin of the bride from Grand Forks, B.C., with William Adamson, nephew of the bride, as altar boy. The wedding music was played by William Long, Trenton.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and mother. She was met at the back of the church by the priest and altar boy. The procession, led by ushers, followed by the groom and his parents, Father Harrison and the altar boy, bridesmaids and the bride with her parents, proceeded up the aisle to the front of the church.

The bride wore an A-Line gown of heavy white peau de soie. The bodice featured a scoop neckline. The long tight sleeves, as well as the redingote style skirt were edged with Guipure lace. It featured a Cathedral train. The shoulder length veil fell from a headpiece featuring Guipure lace with crystal beads and pearls. She carried a cascade of Waburn Abbey and yellow roses. The bridesmaids, Miss Gail Armstrong, Stirling, sister of the groom, Mrs. Anna Frechette, sister-in-law of the bride and Miss Susan Adamson, niece of the bride from North Bay, all wore gowns identical to the maid of honor, but in gold. They each wore a head dress of shasta and bronze poms and carried a bouquet of matching yellow shasta and bronze poms with gold and green velvet streamers.

The groomsmen were Dennis Armstrong, Stirling, and ushers were Scott Frechette, Halifax, brother of the bride, Ron Dickens, Belleville and Brian Cook, Stirling.

The wedding reception was held at Club Canara.

The bride's mother wore a crimp-knit coffee brown coat-dress ensemble with brown and gold accessories. She wore a corsage of yellow and orange sweetheart roses. The groom's mother wore a two piece teal blue tricot knit with matching accessories and a corsage of white gardenia with stephanotis.

The three little sisters of Senior Citizens, namely Mame Morton, Edna Sharp and Mabel Armstrong, served tasty assorted sandwiches and tartlets for lunch on Thursday. Margaret Fitchett pushed the ivories as we sang "The Queen" and the games played were highly competitive.

Dis ole Scribe couldn't tell whether Everett Cooke was cheering his partner, Tilly Senior, or bawling out his wife, Mary, for playing so many times alone when she had a good partner like Jack Senior.

Don't miss next week, for I smell a big "Do" coming up. President Fred Heasman informed us that there was still room on the ledger sheet for any unpaid dues.

The Slogan for the Boy Scouts is "Be Prepared". An old gent said "You're an honest lad, but the bill I lost was a ten spot." The little Scout said "I know, but the last time I found a bill the man didn't have any change."

Did you hear about the fellow who hadn't spoken to his wife for weeks? He was afraid to interrupt her.

EXPANSION GIVES EDWARD ST. MANOR 36-BED CAPACITY

An enlargement program at Edward St. Manor, Stirling, has been completed, making it one of the most modern nursing homes in the entire district.

With Claude Trumble of Stirling as the general contractor, a large addition has been erected to the former St. James the Minor rectory.

The new addition increases the capacity of the nursing home from 22 to 36 beds. Residents of the home now are served their meals in two large dining rooms, rather than in their own rooms as was the case prior to the expansion.

Also included in the new part are two bright sun rooms which provide a pleasant atmosphere for the residents who wish to use them.

Edward Street Manor opened on June 23, 1969, under the ownership of Lloyd Blue. On September 15 of the same year, ownership of the manor passed to Philip Bogue of Rexdale and Desmond Rankin, Willowdale, the present proprietors.

First residents of the manor were Mrs. Frank Stapley and the late Mr. Stapley. Residents now number 33.

Besides providing first class accommodation for elderly persons requiring nursing care,

Edward St. Manor is one of the village's larger employers of labor. At present, the manor has 15 full-time and five part-time workers on its payroll. These include two registered nurses and two registered nursing assistants.

Mrs. W. McKinnon, administrator, joined the staff of the manor in October, 1969, as a registered nursing assistant. A month later, she was promoted to administrator.

Mrs. McKinnon recently received her certificate for completing a Management Development Course for Nursing Home Administrators, conducted by Personnel Systems Associates and directed by Associated Nursing Homes Incorporated (Ontario).

The manor physician, Dr. Peter D. G. Briggs, makes regular visits and is on call in the event of need.

Adhering to Ontario government standards, the manor has installed a call bell system to every bed so that a patient can summon a staff member at any time.

At the manor, every effort is put forth to make life interesting for the residents. Handicraft sessions are conducted frequently by Mrs. James Boughan and chapel services are held every Thursday night, with local churches participating.

Birthday parties, complete with entertainment and refreshments, are held for each resident. Television sets provide entertainment and reading material is available.

Weekly visits by a hair dresser and by a barber, as required, help to keep morale high among the 25 women and eight men who live in the nursing home.

Mrs. McKinnon says some of the residents prefer to remain quiet although others like to stay active. One resident, Mrs. Walter Scott, maintains a youthful spirit by helping out in the kitchen and laundry.

Visitors are welcome anytime between 9 a.m. and 9 p.m. Relatives and friends frequently take the residents out for a walk or a drive, Mrs. McKinnon said.

St. James the Minor rectory was built in 1917 while Rev. J. J. O'Reilly was parish priest of Frankford and Stirling. A new and smaller rectory has been built at Frankford.

Presbyterian Women hold meeting

The president, Mrs. Don Farney, gave an introduction pertaining to "Peace" at the meeting of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Women on Thursday, Nov. 12, held at the church.

The hymn "O God of Love" was sung followed by the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. Gladys Matthews acted as musician throughout the meeting.

The roll call, a Bible verse containing the word "Peace", was answered by the 17 ladies present.

The minutes and correspondence were read by the secretary, Mrs. K. Tompkins.

A bit of planning was done for the fellowship meeting on Nov. 16. A donation was made to the Board of Managers. A pot luck supper was planned for Sun., Nov. 29, with pictures to be shown.

Miss Gena Spry gave the financial report. Mrs. J. Johnston received the offering which was dedicated by Mrs. D. Farney.

The devotional, prepared by Mrs. John McInroy, was conducted by Mrs. Farney. The hymn "O Master Let Me Walk

With Thee" was sung. Mrs. S. Boyce read from the Bible.

Mrs. K. Ray gave the meditation on peace and rest. Trusting in God is the best way to secure these factors. Life and peace are significant of spiritual nature. Scripture reading will give one a feeling of peace. Negative thoughts must be turned to beneficial and building thoughts.

Mrs. K. Tompkins sang a solo, "Peace in the Valley." Miss Gena Spry offered prayer.

Mrs. J. Johnston gave some thoughts on world peace. How can we help to keep peace? Pray. Go to God for help. When Christ reigns in the hearts of all men, there will be peace. Accept Jesus' love and peace and share it with others.

Mrs. C. Tummon gave the topic, also on peace. She emphasized that love, peace and understanding begin in the home. These conditions seemed to prevail everywhere, at one time, until suddenly World War I was upon us, disrupting all serenity. Many lives were so affected by this war, death, people left homeless, others as invalids. Since that time in our regular living, we see so much death caused by sheer carelessness.

We should learn to forgive and forget, then love as God expects us to do. His love stays while other love fades, too often. Much delinquency we see coming from homes where everything possible was available, but love. Many peace treaties have been made between nations, but war goes on. We must strive harder, taking responsibilities shoulder to shoulder, having God as our guide to ever hope to have peace. Mrs. Tummon finished her comments with a poem.

Mrs. D. Farney thanked everyone and offered prayer.

Dainty refreshments were served. Mrs. S. McIntosh voiced thanks to everyone who had made the afternoon so beneficial.

She was a member of Oriole-York Mills United Church and an active member of the women's organizations of the church.

The funeral service, held in the Golden Chapel of Chimes of the Earle Elliott Funeral Home, Toronto, October 22nd, was conducted by the Rev. Donald C. Amos of Brampton.

Jack Bush will seek re-election

Jack Bush, reeve of Sidney Township for the past two years, has officially announced that he intends to seek nomination for another two-year term.

Nomination day is Nov. 25, elections to be held on Dec. 7. Reeve Bush, an 11-year veteran on Sidney Township council, serving as deputy reeve between 1964 and 1968, is a graduate of Stirling High School and owner of Riverside Construction.

He is now serving on the Belleville and Suburban Planning Board, is chairman of the Hastings County Home for the Aged Committee, serves on the Canada Manpower Committee (dealing with unemployment and manpower problems in Belleville and the surrounding area), is chairman of the Information and Education Committee of the Lower Trent Conservation area, and is chairman of the committee to head the proposed Quinte Planning Area.

A strong worker for the proposed Quinte Area Water and Sewer Board, Mr. Bush advocates the importance of both area boards.

"They are much needed in this area... a very important move... not only to provide services in an orderly fashion, but they tie in with industrial growth," he asserted.

Mr. Bush stated that he had a "really good council, and I'm pleased with their co-operation as well as that of the township staff".

A supporter of minor hockey, Reeve Bush sponsors a Riverside Construction pee-wee team in Stirling and a midget team in Frankford.

Married, he and his wife, Joanne, and their six children live at R.R. 3, Frankford.

Witnesses attend Belleville sessions

Jehovah's Witnesses concluded their sessions at the Centennial Secondary School, Belleville, Sunday afternoon. An audience of 1,486 heard Arthur Powley, District Supervisor of the Witnesses raise the question, "Who Will Conquer the World in the 1970's?" He explained that world conquest means different things to different people.

"Both Alexander the Great and Jesus Christ were world conquerors. Alexander, a Greek military leader of ancient times, conquered a million and a half square miles of the earth's surface. He was considered a god in his own time. It did not mean permanent control for him because he died at an early age and his empire was divided among his generals. Jesus too, died as a young man. He told his disciples, 'I have conquered the world.' He had no armies, no earthly empire or any of the other trappings of world conquerors. What did world conquest mean to him? It meant that the world could not break his integrity to his Creator. The religious and political pressure groups would not make him conform to their own ideas of what a world conqueror should be. His conquest of the world was by faith. Satan the Devil personally tried to make Jesus capitulate by 'doing an act of worship' to him. Jesus overcame the Devil and in so doing proved that it would be possible for all Christians to do the same," Powley said.

He added that the pressures of fanatic nationalism and the tendency to draw away from the Bible is greater today than it was in Jesus' day. The excessive emphasis on sex in modern literature, entertainment and society in general makes it difficult for a Christian to stay morally upright. He can be a world conqueror if he withstands these pressures.

"World conquest is not limited to a spiritual conquest," he added. Soon God's Kingdom will take control of the earth, ending all present governments and ushering in everlasting peace. You can be on the winning side

THE STIRLING NEWS-ARGUS, Wednesday, November 18, 1970 7

New standards set for dump sites

One of the most important items on the agenda of the Monday night meeting of Stirling Village Council dealt with pollution.

On September 1, 1970, the Ontario Government passed the Waste Management Act, the affairs of which are handled by the Department of Energy and Resources Management.

This Act requires that by March 1, 1971, all waste management systems and waste disposal systems and sites be operating with full certification, on penalty of being considered illegal. The systems and sites will be inspected by the Public Health inspection staff and branch engineers and inspectors, the nearest branch office being in Kingston.

Certificates will be issued annually, and are good for one year only. The penalties for improper management of waste are high. On summary conviction, persons or municipalities may be fined not less than $100 per day and not more than $2,000 per day for each day of neglect.

A certificate is also required to build or to enlarge a waste management system or a waste disposal system. Here are some of the new standards for a waste disposal site (dump).

1. An access road must be open to the dumping area with a gate that can be locked when the site is closed.

2. An attendant should be on duty when the dumping area is open for use.

3. Use of the dumping area should be limited to people authorized to use that area.

4. The dumping area must not be near water courses.

5. In case the dump is unusable due to climatic reasons, such as deep snow, another area must be prepared and ready to use.

6. Procedures must be established for control of pests.

7. A sign must be provided.

8. The dumping area should be hidden from general view.

9. When the dumping area is filled, cover material must be provided by a proper landfill operation.

10. No scavenging must be allowed.

It was moved by councillor Robert Anderson and seconded by councillor Maurice Faulkner that the village of Stirling apply for a certificate for its waste management system.

Population of Stirling up 3.5%

One of the items covered at Monday's Village Council meeting was a letter from the assessment department of Hastings-Prince Edward. The letter stated that the official population of the village of Stirling now stands at 1,472 persons, roughly 3.5 per cent above last year's population of 1,422.

To give an idea of how the population of the village has grown in the past 16 years, here is a table of the official populations from 1954.

1955	1,225
1956	1,268
1957	1,277
1958	1,303
1959	1,306
1960	1,312
1961	1,328
1962	1,296
1963	1,309
1964	1,344
1965	1,304
1966	1,287
1967	1,357
1968	1,360
1969	1,422
1970	1,472

Village Council noted that the highway population signs would have to be brought up to date.

At the same meeting, Village Clerk W. L. Pollock read a letter from the Ontario Department of Municipal Affairs concerning provincial grants. At present, the department is using 1.354 as the population of the village. At a grant rate of $5 per person, this sets the amount of the grant at $6,770. It was moved by councillor Claude Trumble and seconded by councillor Fred Brandt that the Department of Municipal Affairs be notified of the increase in the population of the village.

The change, using the present population for calculating the provincial grant would mean an increase of $590 in the grant.

Minister Modifies Position

As the result of strong objection from the city, claiming unfair representation on the proposed Quinte Area Planning Board, Municipal Affairs Minister, Darcy McKeough has now proposed that the city's membership be increased from six to eight representatives.

Belleville had objected to the proposed six members and also to the fact that Sidney township was to be named the designated municipality.

In a letter to City Clerk Adam Stalker, Mr. McKeough said he had given careful consideration to the city's suggestions and proposed that Belleville be given eight members but that in all other respects the suggested constitutional arrangements remain the same.

This would mean that all other municipalities in the Quinte area would be represented by two members and that Sidney would be the designated municipality.

Mr. McKeough said the procedures in force relating to the approval of the appointment of members to joint planning boards are adequate to safeguard the interests of the local municipalities.

IN MEMORIAM

TOWNS: In loving memory of our dear son, Donald Richard Towns, who passed away six years ago, November 21st, 1964. In Stirling's hillside cemetery. Where the breezes softly blow Lies the son we loved so dearly That we lost six years ago. Swiftly and silently came the call, His sudden death shocked us all. The blow was hard, the shock severe To part with one we loved so dear. It broke our hearts when you had gone, For part of us went with you, Don, The day God called you home. -Sadly missed and always remembered by Mom and Dad. 44-1

River Valley WI

Mrs. Ernest Carr and Mrs. Roy Tucker were hostesses at the River Valley Centre on Thursday, November 5th, for the monthly meeting of the institute.

A special table was arranged with a White Cross, Blood Red Poppies and other items in memory of those who made the supreme sacrifice. A large basket filled with various shaped gourds and greenery dominated a corner of the president's table.

Twenty three members, four visitors and five preschool children were in attendance. The lady guests were Mrs. Joe Grills of Carmel and Mrs. Walter Hagerman of Newcastle.

Mrs. Roy Tucker opened with the Institute Ode, the Mary Stewart Collect and welcome to all.

Mrs. Philip Conley convened the program and opened with a song in charge of Mrs. Sheldon McIntosh. This included a patriotic number. There will Always be a England.

Mrs. James Hoard introduced her son, Gordon Hoard and his assistant Wayne McCurdy.

These boys enjoyed the school geography trip last winter to Mexico. Gordon gave a vivid description of the country and the bus trip. Wayne was in charge of the projector and a large array of scenic views were shown on the screen.

There were colorful scenes of cities, trees, flowers and many interesting items. Both boys also displayed a large assortment of souvenirs which they had carried home as a memento of their trip. At the close of their travelogue of Mexico they were thanked by Mrs. Ernest Carr and presented with chocolates.

Mrs. Harry Morrow contributed piano music. Informative reports of the Trent Valley area convention were given by the delegates, Mrs. Vernon Harry and Mrs. Glenn Bush.

The president then conducted the business. Mrs. Gerald Brooks read the minutes and correspondence and the roll call was answered by a memorable event of the war years.

Mrs. J. L. Donohoe gave the financial picture.

The delegate's expenses to the area and the Honorariums for the leaders of the Senior Dessert Course were authorized to be paid.

During October, 27 members attended the 60th anniversary observance and nine members attended all sessions of the Trent Valley area.

There will be four card parties in November. Plans were made to cater at the Phila auction sale and at the Fish and Game Club Banquet.

Mrs. George Grills will be hostess at her home for the December meeting.

The 4H project for 1971 will be The Cereal Shelf. The pennies for Friendship were gathered. For October there was $2.12 in the jar.

Mrs. Percy MacMullen reported sending 57 individual gifts to the Linh Institute in England.

Last spring, Mrs. Claude Tucker and a group of volunteers made the felt Christmas door decorations. Several were sold and thus the expense of the material and shipping the parcels was covered and a small amount placed in the treasury.

At the close of the business period the Institute Grace was sung and the refreshment committee was in charge of the social hour.

Mrs. Philip Conley expressed thanks to all who had contributed to the success of the afternoon.

Rebekah Lodge

The Past Noble Grands of Laurel Rebekah Lodge held their monthly meeting in the I.O.O.F. Temple, Stirling.

The President, Sister Irene Hogle welcomed the Members present. Sister Hilda Rose read the Scripture after which a silence was observed for Remembrance Day, also in Memory of Sister Eva Hicks. Sister Eileen Woodcox, Jr. P.N.G. was received into the Club.

It was decided to cater to the 4-H Leaders Banquet in February. The Christmas Party (Pot Luck Supper) will be held on December 7th at the home of Sister Mildred Morrow. Each Member will receive a gift and find out at that time who their Unknown Friend has been for 1970.

Sister Mary Hulin read a letter from our Foster Child in Manila, thanking us for our gifts and it was decided to send him the usual Christmas Gift. A group picture of the "Foster Mothers" has been taken and will be sent to Frederick as soon as possible.

The Meeting closed with the Mizpah, after which delicious refreshments in a very quaint dish were served by Sisters Mildred Morrow and Laura Short. Sister Mary Hulin moved a vote of thanks to these Sisters.

Board seats contested

Stirling voters will go to the polls on Dec. 7 to elect two members in Ward 6 to the Hastings County board of education.

Three candidates are seeking the two available seats in the ward which takes in the township of Sidney and the villages of Stirling and Frankford.

A newcomer to school board elections is Frank Follwell, former Liberal Member of Parliament and mayor of Belleville. He will compete with incumbents Donald Williams of Stirling and Raymond Rowe of Frankford in Ward 6.

Marmora insurance agent Gordon Bennett will challenge incumbent James Spry to represent Ward 3.

Marmora Village, Madoc, Deloro, Elzevir and Grimsthorpe, Marmora and Lake and Rawdon townships.

A three-way fight is developing for the one seat in Ward 4 - Tweed, Hungerford, Huntingdon, Deseronto and Tyendinaga.

Laurison Gunning of Tweed is seeking re-election. Two Tyendinaga men, S. C. Geneja and Bruce Portt, also are competing for the seat.

Municipal nominations will be received in Stirling next Monday night. To date, only Councillor Robert Anderson has declared his intention to seek the re-election. Incumbent reeve, Donald Rodgers, said he planned to step down.

80 persons attend fellowship gathering

Approximately 80 persons attended the Fellowship Gathering at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Monday evening, Nov. 16.

Mrs. Donald Forgy, president of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Women, chair lady for the evening, welcomed everyone.

All joined in singing the Senior citizens entertained

For the third time, the girls from St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church of West Huntingdon entertained us with a program and lunch.

After a session of cards, Helen Thompson, acting as master of ceremonies, introduced us to Dorothy Taylor, wife of their new minister, who was pianist for a song led by Lois Sills. The singing was excellent for one could not help but sing with a pianist like Dorothy and can she ever sing! Comical readings were given by Helen Thompson, Lila Adams and Thelma Sates. The feed bag included a birthday cake in honor of Elizabeth Foster who is celebrating a birthday soon. Elizabeth appreciated this kindness and told us in no fitting words. About 60 supported president Fred Heasman when he told the girls that we had a wonderful afternoon.

Huldah McInroy was introduced as a new member and welcomed. It was decided to hold a turkey dinner on Dec. 10. More about this later.

During the conversation at lunch, John Kane, a retired Senior Citizen who lives on Church Street, was asked how he slept and he replied "I sleep good nights, and I sleep pretty good mornings but afterwards, I just seem to twist and turn."

"Daddy, don't they ever give showers for the groom?" "No, son, there will be storms enough for him after the bride begins to reign."

dis ole Scribe.

hymn, Jesus, lover of my soul, with Mrs. V. Hagerman, of Minto, as musician.

The Scripture passage Matthew 26: 1-13 was read by Mrs. Herbert Smith of Mount Pleasant. Mrs. E. MacDonald of the Pentecostal Church, Stirling gave the meditation on this reading. She made reference to Fellowship, in 1 John 1:3, then spoke of Mary's dedication and love for Jesus, given in John 12: 1-8.

Mary was willing to give her all to Jesus. Some thought she was wasteful in anointing Jesus' feet with such costly ointment when it could have been sold and the money spread among the poor.

Stirling club represented

A new concept for the 1971 Easter Seal Campaign stressing the more positive values of rehabilitation was revealed to community service clubs from the Counties of Hastings, Lennox and Addington and Prince Edward, at a district meeting in Belleville on Thursday, November 19.

The district meeting was called by the Ontario Society for Crippled Children. At this meeting, service club representatives met with Society personnel to discuss plans and preparations for the 1971 Easter Seal Campaign, scheduled for next March 11 to April 11.

The service club representatives reported on their local crippled children's program and the meeting was presented with a report for the 1970 campaign season.

The chairman of the meeting was R. W. Hartman, and the service clubs represented were: Bancroft Lions, Belleville Rotary, Madoc Kiwanis, Napanee Rotary, Picton Rotary, Stirling Rotary and Trenton Rotary club.

Representative from the Stirling Rotary Club was Edward Klompaker.

Mary's one point was to give her very best to Jesus, that He should stand ahead of with her.

Mrs. MacDonald stated that we should all feel this way toward Jesus. Jesus is the centre of our fellowship and we should give our all to him. Jesus love was the greatest. He went to the cross for us. Surely we can give more love and help than we do as we see Jesus the centre of our lives.

Mrs. Blake Faulkner of St. Paul's United Church, Stirling, offered prayer.

Mrs. M. Mason and Mrs. C. Burkitt, of Springbrook, gathered the offering which was dedicated by Mrs. Roy Taylor of St. Andrew's.

The hymn, My Faith Looks Up To Thee, was sung. The Misses Sandra and Lana LaChapelle of St. James the Minor Church, Stirling gave a number of duets, Into Your Hands, Try A Little Kindness and Joy Is Like The Rain, with Sandra accompanying on the guitar.

Board seeking school site

The Hastings County Board of Education currently is looking at the Stirling-Foxboro area as the location for a site for a new school.

This was revealed by trustee James Spry during the nomination meeting for Ward 3 at Rawdon Township Hall, Harold, Monday afternoon. Mr. Spry, who is seeking re-election, gave this information in reply to a question asked by Rawdon reeve Burton Morton.

Mr. Spry explained that, because of the damage which could be done to future negotiations, he could not reveal the exact sites which are under study. He did say, however, that the board was looking at the area "between Stirling and Foxboro."

Mrs. S. McArthur and Mrs. E. Carr of the Anglican Church, Stirling, assisted by Mrs. Blake Faulkner, presented a film, describing conditions in Tunisia, Africa, mainly that affecting children. The benefits derived from UNICEF contributions were emphasized. Everyone joined in singing, He's Got The Whole World In His Hands, with Mrs. Sheldon McIntosh of St. Andrew's, at the piano. There was a brief period of comments on the film.

The LaChapelle girls gave 2 more numbers, Less of Me, and Take This Bread.

Mrs. Lorne Bailey of Springbrook thanked everyone for their efforts in creating such an enjoyable and effective evening. Mrs. Donald Fargy pronounced the benediction.

Jamboree marks 4th anniversary

On Saturday night, Nov. 14, the original Trent Valley Country Jamboree celebrated its fourth year anniversary at Stirling Theatre.

The Jamboree, started in Nov. 1966, due to the efforts of Jack McCaughen and Ken Stapley, still packs the theatre every time on the second and fourth Saturday night each month. Country music fans come from far and near.

In May, the first record of Trent Valley talent was made live at the Jamboree and album No. 2, in stereo, will soon be available.

During the anniversary performance, a congratulatory message was read from the Stirling village council and the Stirling Chamber of Commerce, with best wishes to the Jamboree for continued success in years to come.

After the Jamboree, the cast, with special guests Mike Graham and Sunshine Sean Eyre, sat down to enjoy anniversary cake and lunch, served by ladies from the Jamboree audience.

The Trent Valley Country Jamboree is now the longest running country jamboree in Canada and the only one to make records in Canada live at the show. More than 50,000 have seen the show in Stirling and Stirling may soon be known as the Nashville of Canada and the original home of the Trent Valley Country Jamboree.

Long play records have been sent to Tennessee, Mississippi, Michigan, Washington, Ottawa, California, Alaska and even to Sweden and many other places.

The Jamboree, produced by the Trent Valley Country Jamboree under the sponsorship of the Stirling Volunteer Fire Department, was held at the local theatre last Friday night.

Fire Chief Graham Mouch expressed appreciation to the producers of the show, Jack McCaughen and Ken Stapley.

Inclement weather and a conflict of days were cited as possible reasons for decreased attendance at the show this year.

GRACE CHAPEL

The new Grace Chapel on Edward St. is expected to be in use early next month. No date has been set for the completion of the chapel. One of the major undertakings last week was the pouring of a cement floor in the basement.

Shortt acclaimed reeve of Rawdon township

Ray Shortt was acclaimed reeve of Rawdon township for the next two years when the incumbent reeve, Burton Morton, decided not to stand for re-election.

Mr. Shortt, currently deputy-reeve of the township, will be succeeded in that position by Councillor Murray Heath who also won the seat by acclamation.

All three seats on council also were filled by acclamation. The 1971-72 representative are Councillor James Pollock, Wesley Finch and Robert C. Hoard and Alton and John Spencer. Also nominated for council were Councillors Heath and George Sutherland, and Goodman.

Nominations were received at the township hall in Harold on Monday afternoon.

St. Paul's Faith Unit

Twenty-six ladies attended the Faith Unit meeting at St. Paul's United Church on November 17.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Carman Fitchett and Mrs. and Mrs. E. Wannamaker, on the theme of "Keeping Wonder in the Heart". It is a symbol of deep feeling, enlarging the scope of our lives and widening our horizons.

An attitude of wonder and expectancy keeps worship from becoming stale. The wonder of being "a little lower than the angels" was brought out in Psalm 8. Mrs. W. Fitchett sang a solo - "Just a Little Help from You".

Mrs. R. Chambers gave a talk on the new study of "The Americas." She traced the history of the people from earliest times - Mongoloids from Asia; Aztec, Mayan, and Inca civilizations; Viking and Spanish explorers; French and English settlers; and peoples of today, including Indians and Eskimos. All, with the influence of religions and through events in history, have brought about relations as they are to-day between the peoples of the Americas.

Biblical references from Proverbs, the Prophets, and Jesus' teachings tell about the duties of neighborliness between individuals and also nations. Though there are many evils to-day there are signs that good may still result. This excellent talk was followed by an interesting Cross Word contest on knowledge of North and South America.

Business of the meeting included the planning for bala-packing on November 25.

The next general meeting of UCW will be on December 1, and members were asked to bring a pair of children's mitts for the Clothing Cupboard.

All the Unit officers agreed to remain in their positions for another year.

Other goal scorers for Stirling were Robert DeJong with 2, Kevin Solmes and Dennis Little with one each. Assists went to Solmes with 3 and Jactett who set up 1. Karl Walmsley, Randy Blake and Jean Doucette and Joe Mechetuk scored for Campbellford, with assists going to Randy Blake with 2 and Joe Mechetuk, Danny Doher and Randy Jaques with one each.

In the second game, in which Stirling defeated Marmora 5 to 2, Kevin Solmes netted four goals to pace the winners.

Robert De Jong scored the other Stirling goal. Robert De Jong set up two goals and Glen Dettlor one. Terry Bush played a strong game in goal for Stirling. The game saw 13 penalties given out: nine to Marmora and four to Stirling.

St. James CWL holds meeting

On Thursday, Nov. 12, members of the Catholic Women's League met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Forestell for the annual pot-luck supper. A wide variety of salads, casseroles and desserts, as well as a decorated birthday cake, made a most effective setting. Birthday wishes were extended to Father McGarvey and Alice O'Donnell.

The president, Mrs. Ray LaChapelle, chaired the business meeting, which included reports on an executive meeting in Kingston and a regional meeting in Batavia.

The Diocesan Hope Fund was discussed but no action will be taken until further information is available.

Mrs. Finnigan extended an invitation to their home for the Christmas meeting to be held Dec. 17. This will include the customary exchange of gifts.

At the close of the meeting, Mass was celebrated by Father McGarvey.

Area dairy farmer awarded scholarship

Better late than never is a good motto as far as Madoc township dairy farmer Grant Ketcheson is concerned.

A year ago Mr. Ketcheson was awarded a Nuffield Foundation Scholarship to study agricultural organization in Britain.

But a few weeks before he was to leave on the six-month trip to England, the barn on the family farm with more than 50 head of stock was lost in a fire and Mr. Ketcheson called the trip off.

"There was just too much to do," he said.

So he re-applied for the scholarship and this week Mr. Ketcheson was announced by the Canadian Federation of Agriculture as one of two Ontario farmers to be awarded the Nuffield scholarship for next year.

The scholarships, which include travel and living expenses for six months will see Mr. Ketcheson and J. W. Lambe, a West Zorra sheep farmer, go to England early next year to commence their studies.

The scholarships are open to young farmers between 30 and 35 from a number of Commonwealth countries. The program in Canada is administered by the Canadian Federation of Agriculture.

Several schools in the county have required considerable repair work, said Mr. Spry. Frankford Public School, in particular, needed a lot of repairs, he said.

A substantial amount of money also was spent on school repairs in Marmora, he told the gathering.

During the past two years, Mr. Spry served on several board committees including the building committee and a special committee which succeeded in paring $34,000 worth of "frills" from the proposed new high school in Bayville.

Mr. Bennett, an insurance agent and former school teacher, called for a number of changes in the operation of the county school system.

He said something should be done about the amount of time that costly school buildings stand idle. There ought to be more adult education classes and classes for dropouts during the time regular classes are not in operation, he said.

Mr. Bennett stated that at present, too much emphasis is placed on the idea that "if you have no education, you're no good."

"Someone has to do the mental work," said the candidate. "Someone has to drive the trucks - and this is no less important than teaching school."

Mr. Bennett said he felt parents must take more interest in the operation of schools. They ought to show an interest in what is taught.

"Teachers are trained in how to teach, but not necessarily in WHAT to teach," he said.

In reply to Mr. Bennett, Mr. Spry emphasized that one of the aims of the present board is to have more use made of schools during after hours.

Kells will oppose Bush

E. J. Kells, a former reeve of Sidney Township announced today that he will run for election against incumbent Reeve Jack Bush.

Mr. Kells, who farms on the 3rd Concession of Sidney has a long record of service on township council.

He served as a councillor for four years, as deputy-reeve for two years and as reeve for four years. He was a county councillor for six years, serving during this period on the roads and bridges committee.

Mr. Kells has been a member of Belleville and Suburban Planning Board for six years and has resigned in order to contest the Reeveship. He has been on the Moira River Conservation Authority for two years.

Nominations in Sidney take place Wednesday (tonight).

NEW FIREFIGHTERS

The Frankford Fire Department is trying a new concept in hiring volunteer fire fighters. Of the eight men recently hired, five were in their late teens. The policy of hiring teenagers has worked extremely well, said Chief Elmer Rogers. Here, he shows (from left) Chris Lawson, Donald Davy, Robert Hoyle and Perry Williamson how to operate a fire nozzle. Mr. Davy is one of the older men recently hired. Missing are Brian Michael and James Williamson.

THE BIBLE TODAY

The New Testament in Pidgin English, produced this year by the Bible Society, continues to be in great demand. A New Guinea Pastor, writing to friends in New Zealand, reports: "Recently I carried eight copies of the Pidgin New Testament up to a village in the hills. This involved a motorcycle journey of an hour-and-a-half, a stop overnight, and an all-day walk up and down mountains. When I began selling, eight copies were not enough as people from other villages around heard and came asking for copies. I even sold my own copy. 'How many more have you got back at Kakesu?' 'Only ten left out of the 300 copies which I got a week ago!' 'We need thirty here!'"

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

Did you know that the killing of a bird temporarily reduces the population of that species by one, while the permanent removal of a nesting shrub, tree, or site reduces the production potential of that species forever?

LEGION NOTES

During the National Poppy Campaign, Nov. 5 to Nov. 11, our comrades made a Stirling and District canvass for our poppy fund.

Our sincere thank-you to those who assisted and donated to this cause. Total receipts for the 1970 campaign were $731.55. We deduct expenses for wreaths and poppies and the balance will be spent on veterans and their dependents for welfare in Stirling and district.

EMO courses

One item reviewed at the Monday meeting of Stirling Village Council was the conducting of courses at the Bleeker auditorium in Belleville, early in December by the Emergency Measures Organization.

The purpose of the courses is to train people from a community in how to deal with situations arising in the event of an emergency.

Reeve D. W. Rodgers mentioned that probably no one will be attending the course from the Village of Stirling.

Ducks banded at Presqu'île

More than 1,000 ducks were banded at Presqu'île Provincial Park (on Lake Ontario, near Brighton) by the Department of Lands and Forests between August 11 and September 18. This is an increase of almost 100% over last year.

Blue-winged teal, mallards, black ducks and pintails were caught with corn-baited wire traps. Persons recovering banded ducks are asked to send the band and information as to where, when and how it came in their possession to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Washington, D.C.

All information is returned to lands and forests and gives an up-to-date record of waterfowl numbers, migrations and hunter success.

AN OPEN LETTER to the Citizens of Stirling and District

IGA, the largest group of organized independent food retailers, counter attacks the corporate chains this week with discount prices combined with service which only an independent can provide.

IGA stores were closed Monday, November 23 to mark down prices and reopened Tuesday, November 24.

The corporate chains simply are not going to price the organized independents out of business with any so-called price war.

This isn't the 30's and 40's when the giant chains could decimate the independent grocers at will. Through voluntary groups such as IGA, the independent food merchant is organized and has a buying power as strong as any corporate chain. Nobody buys for less and IGA will match prices with anyone.

The independent who operates his own store offers an additional plus that the consumer can't get anywhere else — personal service and consideration for the individual needs of his customer. You just don't get that from chain store employees.

The combination of competitive prices and personal attention will stand up to anything the food giants are offering.

The program will be effective in IGA stores from the Niagara Peninsula to Kingston and as far north as Gravenhurst — the area supplied by Oshawa Wholesale Limited.

FIG LEAVES INSTEAD OF SLACKS?

By Bill Smiley

I have just got home from something as rare and delightful as a personally conducted tour of Buckingham Palace—a teachers' staff meeting that lasted only half an hour. This is equivalent to building the Pyramids in three weeks.

Meetings, as such, are a particular annex in hell for anyone who has been in the newspaper business and attended at least one, and sometimes two, every working day of the year.

Ninety-five per cent of meetings are unnecessary, unenlightened, and unproductive. They are the refuge of bores of both sexes, who take out their personal frustrations by frustrating everyone else. These people have their little dinkies: Raising points of order; moving amendments to the motion; and nagging for interminable times over items that could be solved in eight seconds by a three-year-old with two heads.

Occasionally, a meeting produces sparks, a clash, a conflict of personalities or ideas that light the Stygian gloom. I will remember one town council meeting. One of the councillors, somewhat the wear for something or other, called one of the other councillors, "a gibbering old baboon." A nice thrust.

He wasn't too far off the mark, but was in no condition himself to hurl such charges. The offended party promptly started peeling off his jacket, and offered to throw the other "within an inch of your life." The other councillors, and even the mayor, quailed. Chiefly, because both councillors were well into the seventies. I might add that the only blood shed was verbal. But that was a meeting.

Staff meetings are not quite that bad, but they inevitably produce in me a headache so fierce that only a great delop of some sedative beverage can allay it.

I've seen adults haggling bitterly for half an hour over the chewing of gum. Where it could be chewed, when it should be chewed, and how it should be chewed (open mouth or closed). The only result was that the kids went on blithely chewing gum, wherever, whenever and however they could get away with it.

Deep moral, social and psychological issues are involved in a problem of this magnitude. Is gum bad for the teeth? What do you do if you send a kid to the office, he removes his gum on the way, and swears angelically that it was the teacher's imagination, that he was really chewing his cud out of sheer nervousness? Is it better for the student to chew gum than to chew his fingernails down to the blood?

"Jesus wore long hair and a beard, didn't he?" How do you counter this one (a favorite), by the way, among male students?

This particular staff meeting was about girls wearing slacks. Human experience has shown that girls will wear whatever other girls are wearing. And girls, these days, are wearing slacks. They are comfortable, they can look smart, they are warm in their frigid winters, they prevent boys from peeking up the stairs as the girls ascend in mini-skirts, and they have probably contributed more to containing the population explosion than the old-fashioned night-dress.

Anyway, I expected a marathon. About three hours. They can wear slacks, but only once a week. They can wear slacks, but they can't wear blue jeans. Nobody in my class is going to wear slacks. If it's all right for the boys to wear blue jeans, why can't the girls. And so on.

It was fantastic, but the openly, and bluntly expressed feeling of the majority was that girls should be allowed to wear whatever was in style. And that was that.

One commercial teacher, who could have been expected to come down heavily on the side of "no slacks," said she didn't care if they wore fig leaves as long as they were "neat and tidy."

I'd like to hear what you think about long hair, girls wearing slacks, and all the other things that were unacceptable in our day. Drop a line.

a general rule, physical reasons will be the determining factor in establishing an exemption because of sex, and lack of mobility (e.g. for travel or transfers) will be the determining factor in establishing an exemption because of marital status.

In most cases, exemptions will be decided on an individual basis rather than as a group exemption.

The fact that the employer may have to provide separate facilities for a person of the opposite sex will not justify an exemption unless the expense would be clearly unreasonable.

Advertisers may not place and newspapers may not print ads limiting a position to a person on one sex or marital status, unless an exemption for the job has first been established.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Bastedo, Grade 7; Beth Rumney, Grade 8, secretary; Front row—Paul Eyre, Grade 8; Gerald Duguay, Grade 8, vice-president; David Davis, Grade 6; June VanHuizen, Grade 7.

Canada Saving Bonds are popular

What is the most popular investment among Canadians? According to statistics, Canada Savings Bonds lead the way by a wide margin.

Since the first Canada Savings Bonds campaign 25 years ago there have been nearly 33,000,000 applications for CSBs, and during that time, Canadians have purchased nearly $30 billion worth of the bonds.

Canada Savings Bonds are a safe and easy form of investment for everyone, and the terms of the new Series are particularly attractive. They offer purchasers an average annual yield of 7% per cent when held to maturity.

Each new $100 Canada Savings Bond in coupon form has 11 regular annual interest coupons which can be cashed individually as they come due. The first is for $6.75; the next three are for $7.75 each and the last 7 are for $8.00 each.

Canada Savings Bonds first appeared back in 1946. At that time, the main objective was to provide a new and attractive channel for the small savings of individuals to take the place of the Victory Loans and War Savings Certificates that were so widely supported by Canadians during the war years.

Canada Savings Bonds have continued to fill that role for Canadians, while at the same time providing the Government of Canada with an excellent and practical means of financing its operations with less reliance on the regular capital market.

A significant number of Canadians purchase Canada Savings Bonds at their place of work through the Payroll Savings Plan. By this means, CSBs may be purchased by monthly, semi-monthly or weekly deductions from their wages or salaries.

Last year, there were 647,000 applications for Canada Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan amounting to $288 million—an all-time record. In Ontario alone, some 215,000 persons purchased more than $95 million worth of CSBs through the Payroll Savings Plan.

DOLLARS AND GOOD SENSE

Mr. Martin serves as special consultant to Avco Financial Services. All questions should be sent to him at P.O. Box 2820, London, Ontario. Those containing a name and address will be answered in this column or by direct return mail. No names will be used in print.

Dear Mr. Martin:

With the new car models due, can you give me some tips on what to look for in buying a new car?

Mr. L.D.W.

Dear Mr. L.D.W.:

To avoid all the pitfalls in buying a new car, or a used car for that matter, you must make some very careful plans, starting well before you even get to the showroom. By following a logical approach to car buying, you can save a lot of money as well as time.

The biggest problem is the number of makes and models available to you, so start in your living room and narrow the choices down before you even start looking. Know just how much you can afford and make your choices fit your particular needs. The trend this year is to smaller cars and most manufacturers will have new sub-compacts out this fall. For a large family, though, a station wagon can be the best buy.

Within a given price class, no model is likely to be substantially superior to all others, so pick a car in your chosen price class that will deteriorate most slowly.

Be careful with the options, too. Some may be worth the extra expense because of added safety or convenience, but some are simply frills for which you get nothing back when you sell.

Once inside the showroom where you show a serious intent to buy, you are fair game for the salesman, whose aim is to sell you the most costly car he can. Knowing what to expect is your defence against an eager salesman—take the offensive yourself. The "list" price posted on the new car is not a firm price. The dealer expects you to haggle. How good a deal you can make depends on your ability as an old-fashioned horse trader, patient shopping around.

Take a good look at the dealer's service department, too. With most new car warranties, you'll probably be taking your car to that garage often.

But after shopping carefully for weeks to find the right car at the right price, don't waste all your savings and effort by arranging for credit in a snap. Though you may not look at it this way, finance charges are as much a part of the cost of a car as any option.

The more you pay down the less you have to finance, so make your down payment as large as you can. Don't rely only on the dealer's finance arrangements. Shop around at different lenders before you buy. You can find the best interest rates and have your credit approved in advance so that when it comes time to buy your new car, there will be no delays in getting the money.

WELLMAN'S WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Thirteen members and seven visitors were present for the meeting of Wellman's Women's Institute on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 18, held at the home of Mrs. Jim Pollock.

The meeting opened with the Institute Ode and The Lord's Prayer. The roll call was answered by 'little things in life that lead to good citizenship.'

The motto, given by Mrs. Douglas Clancy on 'Youth is not a time of life, it is a state of mind,' was well prepared.

Mrs. Keith Clancy, convener for citizenship and education, was responsible for arranging the program and opened with a poem on 'Real Knowledge.' Mrs. Bruce Stapley gave a piano number and Mrs. Elmer Cotten a reading. The main feature was a demonstration of making and baking puff pastry, also making and frying eelies, by Mrs. Ernest Thain. Everyone had the opportunity of sampling these during the lunch period. Mrs. John Carlisle expressed thanks to Gwelda on behalf of the members and visitors and presented her with a gift.

Mrs. Pollock, the president, presided for the opening and business, which included plans for a card party to be held in the Institute Hall November 28, with Mrs. Everett Maybee and Mrs. Victor Graham as conveners.

Motions were passed to make a donation to the Christmas T.B. Seal Campaign and to buy gifts for the shut-ins at Christmas, and to pay all the bills that were presented.

River Valley UCV

The River Valley unit of St. Paul's United Church met at the home of Mrs. Gerald Brooks for their November meeting.

In the report of community friendship, it was found that 16 home visits and six hospital visits had been made by members and get-well cards and birthday cards had been sent by the convener.

Contributions to the flower fund and to the Fellowship of the Least Coin were made.

The theme of the stewardship talk related to something to which everyone could contribute — smiles. All kinds of smiles are good, but a joyous smile is the ultimate. A Christian smile expresses a joy that is full. It is as a flag that flies from a castle when the King is in residence. This talk was given by Mrs. Roy Bush.

It was discussed and planned that the December meeting should be shared if possible, with the residents of the Edward Street Manor.

The worship service had been prepared by Iris McCurdy. After the singing of a hymn, the eighth chapter of Romans was read with the encouragement that 'all things work together for good.' The roll call was answered by a Bible verse pertaining to prayer.

The new study book on Latin America was introduced by Mrs. Roy Bush. A general outline of the extent of these countries with some of their history was given. Much general information was elicited from the members so that a base and keen interest was set up for further studies.

Weather could delay News-Argus

In view of the fact the News-Argus is printed on an out-of-town press, with the approach of winter and at times bad driving conditions, it is possible that delivery of The News-Argus to town could be delayed should a severe, crippling storm tie up the roads and prevent, for a temporary period, normal highway travel. As can be realized by all who experience the severe Canadian winter, should this occur between now and next spring, there could be no warning.

Therefore we publish this notice to warn that during the winter months, a crippling storm early in the week could make delivery of The News-Argus at the normal time impossible.

CHATTERTON WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The ladies of the Chatterton Women's Institute enjoyed a travelling dinner on Wednesday evening. It began with the first course at Mrs. Gerald Irvine's home and her assistants, then to Mrs. Berson Mitts.

Here, she was hostess for the regular meeting, where the president opened with the Ode and Mary Stewart Collect.

The roll call was answered by a copy of your favourite recipe, followed with the minutes of the last meeting.

A short business period was conducted. Mrs. Floyd MacInnes gave her report as delegate to the Couple who had polio run successful business

Christmas has already arrived at 533 Park Street North in Peterborough where a man in a wheelchair and a woman on crutches are very busy these days handling orders for Christmas cards and gift magazine subscriptions.

They're Cliff and Roma McIntosh and it's just 21 years ago this fall that Cliff started the business. He had spent two years in hospital with polio which struck him in Delhi where he had gone to pick tobacco.

After his convalescence, he tried selling magazine subscriptions by telephone from his home in Castleton—about 45 miles south of Peterborough, where his parents have a farm. "But you need at least a thousand customers to make a living that way," he says, "and Castleton just wasn't big enough."

So the March of Dimes (now called The Ability Fund) made him an offer. They would pay his room and board in Peterborough for as long as three years while he got established. He moved to Peterborough in 1955, and it took only two years until he could tell the agency he no longer needed help.

That was in 1957, the same year he married Roma, who he had met in hospital where she was also a polio patient. Business was so good they were able to buy the two-storey house they're in now, living on the first floor and renting the second. Then along came Bruce, who is now six and a bright pupil in Grade 2.

"Bruce has been a big help," says Roma. "He seems to have known instinctively what we could do and what we could not do. If I were standing with my crutches, for example, he would never ask to be lifted up. He's been picking things up for us since he could walk; he's been going to the store since he was two-and-a-half, and for more than two years now he's been putting out the garbage and doing things like putting out lights and locking doors."

Cliff has about 3,000 steady customers now, including about 300 who have moved out of town—one as far away as Australia—and who still send him their renewal subscriptions. He handles all magazine subscriptions for the Peterborough Board of Education and the County Separate School Board, and a lot

Wrestlers to compete at Ottawa

Wrestlers from 14 counties from Belleville to the Quebec border will be trying for a berth in the Province of Ontario Games when they meet in a regional competition at Ottawa's Sir John A. Macdonald Secondary School, December 5. The fighters, aged 16 to 21, will compete in the 10 junior Olympic weight classes ranging from 105 pounds to the unlimited category. The majority of the competitors will come from area secondary schools, colleges, universities and the YMCA.

The winner of each class will advance to the Province of Ontario Games scheduled to be held in Etobicoke, December 27, 28, 29, 30. More than 1,200 athletes will compete in the Games' 16 sports. The provincial games will be used to select Ontario's team to the Canada Winter Games slated for Saskatoon, Saskatchewan in February.

for Sir Sandford Fleming College and Trent University. Roma does most of the paper work, Cliff spends most of his time on the telephone which he has rigged up with a steel bar so he doesn't have to pick it up with his weak right arm, leaving his strong left one to write. In recent years, they have been able to add Christmas and greeting cards to their service.

They credit the March of Dimes for getting them started.

but they don't need help now Cliff and Roma McIntosh are taxpaying members of the community who support local charities instead of being on the receiving end. They're able to take a month off in the summer to visit Roma's folks in Ottawa Cliff's family in Castleton, and spend some time at a cottage. "We're a long way from being rich," says Cliff, "but we feel we're fairly independent now—and it's a nice feeling."

Letter to the editor

Dear Sir:

This is in reply to last week's letter to the editor and I wish to state that I agree with the opinion of the writer.

However there are some facts that must be put straight and these are as follows:

To the best of my knowledge Stirling Minor Hockey teams did not practice on Sunday last year as suggested by the previous writer.

As a matter of fact the Stirling Arena Commission, of which I am also a member, do not approve of Stirling Minor Hockey teams practicing on Sunday and therefore the Sunday ice time, except for public skating, is rented to out of town teams.

I will admit that last year the Legion Pee Wees were required to play away from home (190 miles) on two consecutive Sundays in the OMHA finals, this was beyond our control.

The only reason practices were held last Sunday was because of the late opening of our arena and the necessity of the teams at least having a few skating drills in order to be somewhat ready for the opening scheduled games starting on Monday, 16 Nov.

Sincerely,
Bert Bastedo
President
Stirling Minor Hockey Assoc.

Madoc school open house

On December 3, 1970, Centre Hastings Secondary School will hold an Open House. All interested parties, students and teachers, will be welcome.

It is the intention of the Open House Committee to provide tours and displays as well as student projects that will be of general interest. After a brief assembly in the gymnasium at 7:30 the tours and displays will begin. Musical entertainment and refreshments will be provided as well as free parking and coat checking.

University women hold meeting

The Canadian Federation of University Women of Belleville and District held their November meeting in the Teacher Education Centre at the Ontario School for the Deaf. The guest speaker was Dr. J. G. Demeza, who outlined the development and growth of the school from 1870 to 1970. A series of slides were shown by Mr. Vader and comments on the Teacher Education Centre were given by Dr. J. Boyd.

An Irishman, Mr. J. B. McCann started a small school for deaf children in Toronto in 1858 with four pupils. He tried to impress on the government and civic officials the need for a school of this type. After eight moves in 12 years, the fruits of Mr. McCann's efforts were realized and a permanent school was established in Belleville in 1870. The school was called "The Deaf and Dumb Institute."

The new school had many problems - irregular heating, boiler trouble and poorly designed classrooms. Because of these many inadequacies, the school was rebuilt in 1922.

In 1874, the school was host to the first convention of teachers. Part of the program was a trip to the sandbanks in the steamer "Rochester". The main speaker was Alexander Graham Bell, who spoke on "visible speech", a method used by the school up until the year 1906.

The main food supply for the institute came from the farm which was developed and operated to help cover expenses. They kept registered Ayreshires and chickens. The farm continued until 1962, when the barn burned down. The farm and the last of the cows were then sold. Sir John A. Macdonald Secondary School now occupies the land. Now the only agricultural activities are horticulture and maintenance of the grounds.

Early group hearing aids had large amplifiers. They serviced groups of students, were very elaborate and were fixed to the floor. Now, individual speakers and modern group hearing aids are used.

Such trades as shoemaking and metal working were taught to the boys in the early days. The girls learned Home Economics and sewing. Later, cabinet making, drafting, printing, commercial and beauty culture were added. Sports and physical training have always played an important role in the school.

Today, many of the hard of hearing students are separated from the totally deaf for different training. The maximum level of achievement is equivalent to about Grade 10. Students may go on to Gallaudet College for the Deaf in Washington, D.C. and obtain a B.A. degree after a one year refresher course and three years at the school. There are 52 students out of a total of 432. A residence has been set up where four girls at a time live for a short period with a residence counselor. They make the same menus, but buy their own food and keep the house.

Other services which have been added recently are the development of audiological and psychological departments in the school. Some children who have a language and speech disorder (aphasia) are taught here, also.

One other feature of the school which is unique is the "in service training" of teachers. A new teacher Education Centre has been opened for their training. This media centre is equipped with overhead projectors, a TV, 16mm movies and slides. They have their own TV studio and can produce programs from live action. A character generator is being developed where words are printed across the screen. The tapes are also available to other schools.

In 1963, a school was set up at Milton and by 1966 had facilities for both junior and senior classes. Prior to this time, the Ontario school for the Deaf in Belleville serviced the whole province. A third school is in the planning stages for south western Ontario.

Dr. Demeza was introduced by Mrs. R. L. Graham and thanked by Mrs. B. R. Collins. A short business meeting preceded the speaker.

Letter to the editor

The following is a letter to the editor of the Herald-Gazette and is reprinted because of the interest locally: DO YOU CARE ENOUGH?

Editor, Herald-Gazette: Dear Sir: It's history now since Gordon Sinclair announced the beginning of a discount price war, that if continued and the public remains naive and unconcerned as they demonstrated last week, then I am afraid it will herald the end of most independent food retailers.

When Mr. McCormack (president of one of the food chains) stated that by merely increasing sales 20 per cent he could pay for this scheme, the whole truth did not appear. As a very clever and successful business head he knows that his rival corporate food stores will not sit back and let this happen. Before this letter is printed, all the other corporate stores will have entered the race to hold their sales.

What then? Where will the 20 per cent increase in sales for Mr. McCormack come from? Simple, from the independent retailer.

A three-month siege of this type should eliminate most independents, and leave the food giants with enough time to successfully recover their losses and satisfy their shareholders, by again raising their prices.

Another theory to this story is that Mr. McCormack is merely trying to stabilize the industry for all times. By this I mean that because the giants have been worrying, especially in the larger centres where they make the most of their profits, and sales have suffered considerably, Mr. McCormack maybe says: "We can afford to fight until the lesser giants say 'Uncle' and peace is restored, and prices go up and remain stabilized so that all the giants can live together."

This theory I like better, but meanwhile what happens to the independent food retailer?

I am very reluctant to write this letter because right away people will point the accusing finger and call "Cry Baby", "Poor Loser" and the other titles often used. However, I am prepared to dig ditches if I must, but many retailers may not be physically able or so inclined.

As a person with past corporate experience in the industry, I can truthfully say that independents, whether they stock clothing, hardware, appliances, operate restaurants or whatever, will soon have to meet this challenge in a more real way from the giants.

I would say in closing that it is high time we took a hard, long look at our priorities, when we think we are saving a few cents. And to the many faithful followers who stay with us through the rough times, thank you. We shall not forget it, as long as we are still here.

RAYMOND LEE,
Top Valu Food Market
Bracebridge.

Tender call expected soon

Conditional on the completion of property acquisitions, tenders for the reconstruction of Highway 2 between Trenton and Belleville are expected to be called some time next year.

This was indicated last week by DOH district engineer Vernon Snell of Kingston, who said that department programming scheduled a tender call next year unless "problems" came up.

One of the "problems" which could delay the tender call would be the final outcome of expropriation proceedings to acquire the several remaining properties which still remain to be purchased.

Expropriation proceedings could be entered into by the highways department for at least seven properties along the highway route.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Reid and family were recent supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Spencer and family at Rylstone.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Mason were recent weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Mason, Scarborough, and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Bradshaw, Kim and Kevin at Agincourt.

Murray Meiklejohn, Rylstone, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Denton Meiklejohn on Sunday. Miss Myrtle McKeown, Peterborough, visited her father Thomas McKeown on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Brownson spent a few days recently with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Swanson and baby Eric at Wayne, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Bateman visited Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bateman and family at Foxboro on Saturday.

Large crowds attended the Gospel Crusade meetings featuring "The Learnings" held in the L.O.L. Hall on Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings.

Ontario.

Is there any place you'd rather be?

Ontarians are the kind of people who wouldn't be here if there was any place better. We are people who came from a hundred lands and stayed to build. People with backbone and brawn and a hunger to succeed. Men and women who've created a standard of living in decades that other lands worked centuries to build. If we have a flaw it's our chronic modesty. Ontarians may be proud to be Ontarians and Canadians... they just seldom tell anyone. From an economic point of view that's wrong. The more people we have boosting Ontario and Canada the better it is. And we've got a lot to boost with. In the fight against pollution for example, Ontario has become a world leader. Everyone talks about pollution, we do something. More than a billion dollars has been invested to date to build water supply and sewage systems in dozens of communities throughout the province. We've got laws to prosecute industries that pollute the air and water; loans and grants to help industries that want to do something to stop it. We need a vigorous economy of course, to support these important programs. And, that's where you come in. Though our productivity has doubled in ten years and our incomes in twelve, Ontarians don't sit on their successes. There's a demanding decade ahead full of challenges and opportunities to make the quality of our lives better yet. To meet these challenges we've got to believe in ourselves. Which, when you think about it, isn't such a bad idea.

Everytime you boost Ontario... Ontario and Canada get a little stronger.
Government of Ontario John Roberts, Prime Minister.
